GERMANY FREE TO DROP APPLICATION TO ENTER LEAGUE, SAYS STRESEMAN

Foreign Secretary Tells Reichstag This Can Be Done if Reconstruction
Plans Are Disappointing.

LEAGUE "PLUNGED IN GRAVE CRISIS"

Says Events at Geneva Injured It as Peace Instrument or as Promoter of Special Interests.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, March 22.—Foreign Minister Stresemann told the Reichstag today that Germany reserves the right to withdraw her application for entry into the League of Nations if the decision of the new commission regarding reconstruction of the Council does not correspond with Germany's expectations.

The League of Nations has been plunged into a grave crisis by the breakdown of the negotiations for Germany's election, Stresemann said.

He frankly criticized the obstruc-tionist tactics employed by certain powers at Geneva in keeping Germany from the Council seat promised her at Locarno.

"The outcome of the negotiations must be deeply deplored, because the chief mourner, after all,
is the League itself," he said.

"Whether we consider the League an efficient instrument for the promotion of peace and the protection of humanitarian ideals, or whether we recognize in it a new invented diplomatic contrivance calculated to further the special interests of individual states, the fact remains that as a result of the events in Geneva, the League has suffered in both directions."

Defends Course at Geneva.

The adherence of the League,
the Foreign Minister said, should have subordinated all other considerations to the formalities of receiving Germany into membership.
By this attitude the principle underlying the League—that of universality—would have been considerably strengthened, but the special interests of certain states were exploited in such a powerful and brutal manner that a situation was provoked which the League for the time was unable to master.

Replying to a reproach because the German delegation had not left Geneva the moment the Council membership question no longer conformed with the promises received by Germany at Locarno, Stresemann said:

"Such a departure unquestion-ably would have called forth cheap laurels for the German delegation at home, but at the expense of our prestige in the eyes of the rest of the world. We could not afford to offend the League of Nations because the attitude of several powers in it seemed incorrect. As it was, we left Geneva without a single Power there justified in blaming us for the unsatisfactory result of the conference."

Before and during the war we frequently made the mistake of underestimating the importance of public sentiment as a world factor.
If that was a mistake at the zenith
of our power, it would have represented nothing less than a crime
in our present situation.

"The entire attitude of the organs of the League of Nations reflected a wish for peace with the German nation. To respond to such sentiments with an abrupt departure would have been a political blunder."

Equality With Other Powers.

Germany, he added, must continue to strive to enter the League
on equal terms with the world powers, even if the League be nothing but a new diplomatic instrument for furthering the special interests of nations.

Fortunately, however, Germany's interests were identical with the League ideals, and she had no intention of prosecuting any kind of policy of might or of balancing of powers.

Germany would not abandon her well-known principles, and did not hesitate to declare that Sweden's offer to withdraw from the council, while altruistic, would not solve the problem without changing the political complexion of the League.

Germany, the foreign minister added, had declared her willingness to co-operate loyally for the development of the League, and it was the task of the German delegation in Geneva not to let the Lo-

SENATE COMMITTEE TO GIVE PROHIBITION AN AIRING

Public Hearings Decided on by Judiciary Body, Beginning April 5—One Week
for Wets and One for Drys.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 22.—Public hearings on the prohibition question were ordered today by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Senator Walsh (Dem.) of Montana, alone opposed the recommendation of a subcommittee of five in favor of open hearings. The subcommittee will conduct the hearings.

Hearings will be confined to five modification measures now before the committee. One would amend the Eighteenth Amendment so that states which were wet before the prohibition amendment would again be wet, with the Government manufacturing, selling and distributing liquor.

TAIL OF COMMA IN WILL BASIS OF FORGERY CHARGE

Two Persons, Who Signed as Witnesses, Accused in New York Case.

By the Associated Press.
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 22.—Miss Nellie Drummond and William Weeks, both of Yonkers, N. Y., who signed as witnesses to the purported second will of Edwin
A. Oliver, Yonkers editor and humorist, today were charged with first degree forgery and perjury in indictments handed down by the Westchester grand jury.

The will, to which they were witnesses, was declared by Surrogate Judge Slater, on Feb. 12, to be a forgery. Proof of its falsity was offered in the misplacement of the tail of a comma. It was testified, proved that the blank on which the instrument was written was not printed until after the date of the will, Sept. 20, 1924. The second will left practically the entire Oliver estate valued at $60-000 to a nephew, George S. Cowles, it purported to upset a previous will which left the estate divided among a number of relatives.

HYDRO-GLIDER HOPS LIKE FLEA IN SUCCESSFUL TESTS

Further Experiments With Invention Before Proposed Ocean Trip
From Algeria to Buenos Aires.

By the Associated Press.
MARSEILLES, France, March 22.—Exhaustive tests will be made in the vicinity of Marseilles before the hydro-glider, called the "sea flea," is ready for its proposed attempt to skim the ocean surface
from Oran, Algeria to Dakar, Senegal, on the West coast of Africa, and thence to Buenos Aires.

The hydro-glider has been designed by M. de Gasenko. He has not disclosed the details of his invention, but it is understood the machine is not quite like the ordinary hydro-glider as known in America. It moves in long jumps to the tops of waves and thereby derives its name.

The present model is the twenty-sixth; it has been quite successful in comparatively smooth water tests, but its action in Atlantic sea ways has not been tried out.

$15,000 HOLDUP IN THEATER

Robbers Imprison Four Men at Newark, N. J.

By the Associated Press.
NEWARK, N. J., March 22.—
Four men, taken today prisoner
after the four men of the night force of the Mosque Theater here, broke open the safe and escaped with the week-end receipts, estimated at $15,000.

PREACHER VISITED DIVES TO OBTAIN DATA ON DRY LAW

Dr. Empringham Traveled Over Country Mingling With Bootleggers and Posing as Salesman.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 22.—Wearing various disguises, the Rev. Dr.
James Empringham, general secretary of the Church Temperance Society, obtained first hand knowledge of prohibition by mingling with bootleggers and members of the underworld in a dozen cities, he said.

From the pulpit of St. Luke's Episcopal Church last night Dr.
Empringham said his investigation convinced him that the prohibition law had failed.

He reiterated his recent statement that a majority of the members of the Church Temperance Society favored prohibition modification.

His first statement to this effect drew denials from many members of the society and from Episcopal clergymen, who said the society had been virtually extinct
since prohibition days.

Worse Than Old Days.

At Rochester, there are 100 more speakeasies than there were saloons in the old days," Dr. Em-pringham declared. Describing his experiences in one city, he said that within an area where there used to be three bars, 27 blind taverns were known to be in an hour's search.

Dr. Empringham said that on his trip throughout the country to prohibition, his principal difficulties arose from his possibility of being arrested in part by total abstinence when in a blind pig. Another difficulty in making drinks think he was a good fellow was that he never smoked. As an excuse for drinking only pebbles no one would want them, but since they are scarce they are precious.

Returns of a questionnaire sent to Protestant Episcopal clergymen
by the Church Temperance Society indicated, he said, that the clergy favors repeal or modification of prohibition by 2 to 1.

"For many years I was almost reproached for being the most fanatical believer in prohibition in the Episcopal Church," he declared.
Empringham, "For 18 years I have been National Secretary of the Church Temperance Society and have tried to teach prohibition to the Episcopal Church. There seems to be a general impression throughout the country that I have suddenly changed my desire to make this a sober nation, but this is not true."

"They say I have ceased to be dry and have become a wet and have gone over to the devil, but I deny the allegation."

Buckner's Home Rule Plan.

United States Attorney Buckner,
in an address at Fordham Manor Church last night, said: "We are driven by the actual facts which confront us and by the opinion of all involved to the conclusion that prohibition cannot be enforced by the Federal Government unless the states help by taking over about 90 per cent of the job."

Buckner suggested that each state be permitted to decide what percentage of alcohol makes a drink "intoxicating."

"I have been telling the public for the past 12 months," Buckner said, "that the Federal Government alone cannot adequately enforce prohibition in New York without changing the entire system of Federal courts and establishing a system of Federal police courts where prohibition cases can be tried without juries. This might involve a constitutional amendment."

"I have also submitted a careful estimate that after such a constitutional amendment and after a radical change in our Federal system of courts and police, the characteristics of the law."

PORPOISE-HUNTING EXPEDITION

Scientists to Shoot Marine Mammals on Gulf Coast.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—A scientific expedition to the Gulf of Mexico, to shoot porpoises has been undertaken by Dr. Gerrit S. Miller, Smithsonian Institution specialist in the study of mammals.
Fishermen of Cedar Keys, Fla., report that herds of these marine mammals are flocking into shoal water there at low tide and presents good targets. The shallow water permits the recovery of the bodies.

The object of the expedition is to complete the collection in the National Museum which is the distinction of the Smithsonian Institution. It is thought that the porpoises of the Florida west coast have certain distinct characteristics of their own.

HOUGHTON REVEALED AS SOURCE OF ARTICLES WHICH AROUSED EUROPE

Returning Envoys Who Create Storm

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 22.—An
inclination to back out of the World Court, now that it is in,
and a willingness to torpedo the League of Nations for political capital, was imputed to Senator Pat Harrison (Dem.) of Mississippi, in opening a heated discussion of the sensationally gloomy description of European conditions, which was made public here last week, following Ambassador Houghton's arrival from London.

Newspaper correspondents have been committed to secrecy concerning the authorship of the statement, which threw European capitals into an uproar. They had been obliged to refer to it as coming from a "semi-official source,"
and other such subtleties as a
condition for receiving the information from the State Department.
Harrison and other Senators im-
patiently brushed this aside today,
and not only revealed the author-
ship of the statement as Houghton
himself, but made public the fact that the interview at which it was

Gloomy Picture of Europe.

In the course of that interview he discussed with great vigor and in pungent detail, the causes of the recent failure at Geneva, the prospects of success for the Locarno
program—which he thought were
very dark—and predicted the failure of the proposed disarmament
conference.

Harrison declared it was incredible that the statement had been
made without the previous sanction
of President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg. Indeed, he believed it was the issue of a proposed plan by them.

"What was their object?" he demanded. "Is it that the President
and those of his party who went into the World Court with him
getting ready to back out? Are
they preparing to beat a retreat
from the position to which they so lately advanced? Can it be that they have been frightened by the
speeches which our own Senators (Harrison and Borah) have recently made in the hustings of the Middle West?"

"I hope not, but if the President
is preparing to retreat, why doesn't
he say so frankly and openly? Why does he go about it in those backdoor methods by having the Ambassador give out an anonymous
statement to the press?"

"We all know what is the effect
of this statement. The effect is to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery of the League. It is to
sunder distrust and suspicion in Europe and so to render the Locarno
program a mere farce. It is to embarrass the men who are trying to hold the machinery of the League
together."

W. E. D. STOKES' SON, ADRIAT AT SEA THREE DAYS, IS SAFE

By the Associated Press.
KEY WEST, Fla., March 22.—A
message received here today by
Miss Florence Crittenton said W. E.
D. Stokes Jr., son of the New York
hotel owner, and a crew of three
men had reached Cape Canaveral, Fla., in a small boat after
drifting helplessly at sea since March 18. The appearance of Stokes to Miss Crittenton was announced recently.

The message said the Stokes
yacht, the Calypso, was wrecked
March 18, about 50 miles off the port of Charleston, S. C., and the
he and the crew had taken to sea
in a small boat. Details of the experience were lacking.

MAROONED IN A FERRIS-WHEEL

NEW YORK, March 22.—Unaware that Miles Kehoe, 35 years
old, of Jersey City, dozed in a car
of the big Ferris wheel at Coney Island, 170 feet above the ground,
employees turned off the power at 5:30 o'clock last evening and went home. Kehoe dozed until ocean waves awakened him. Then he climbed to state his position. He said he had given the Mayor "the intellectual once-over" and found
that he did not balance the side of
the scale wherein "fair play, justice and common sense" were placed.

"This movement must be free
from party lines," he said. "If
none of those who voted for Mayor
Miller will vote against him, the move is useless. It must be non-political, nonpartisan, dispassion-
ate and without bigotry."

Mrs. Ryder said mothers of St.
Louis, interested in preservation of
health, would oppose Mayor Miller
because he had permitted the removal of Dr. H. I. Spector, formerly city tuberculosis controller.

Ebeling asserted the Mayor kept the city in an uproar and turmoil
for a recall election.

Kersting called Mayor Miller a "hypocritical work jangler" and condemned his failure to declare himself on the prohibition question. He said the Mayor personally was wet, but that he had declined to state his position. He said he had given the Mayor "the
intellectual once-over" and found
that he did not balance the side of
the scale wherein "fair play, jus-

capitals into an uproar. They had
been obliged to refer to it as coming from a "semi-official source,"
and other such subtleties as a
condition for receiving the information from the State Department.
Harrison and other Senators im-
patiently brushed this aside today,
and not only revealed the author-
ship of the statement as Houghton
himself, but made public the fact
that the interview at which it was
made was held at his request.

In the course of that interview he
discussed with great vigor and in
pungent detail, the causes of the recent failure at Geneva, the prospects of success for the Locarno
program—which he thought were
very dark—and predicted the failure of the proposed disarmament
conference.

Harrison declared it was incredible that the statement had been
made without the previous sanction
of President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg. Indeed, he believed it was the issue of a proposed plan by them.

"What was their object?" he demanded. "Is it that the President
and those of his party who went into the World Court with him
getting ready to back out? Are
they preparing to beat a retreat
from the position to which they so
lately advanced? Can it be that
they have been frightened by the
speeches which our own Senators (Harrison and Borah) have recently made in the hustings of the Middle West?"

is preparing to retreat, why doesn't
he say so frankly and openly? Why
does he go about it in those back-
door methods by having the Ambassador give out an anonymous
statement to the press?"

"We all know what is the effect
throw a monkey wrench into the
sunder distrust and suspicion in Europe and so to render the Locarno
program a mere farce. It is to embarrass the men who are trying to hold the machinery of the League
together."

KEY WEST, Fla., March 22.—A
message received here today by
Miss Florence Crittenton said W. E.
D. Stokes Jr., son of the New York
hotel owner, and a crew of three
men had reached Cape Canaveral,
Fla., in a small boat after
drifting helplessly at sea since
March 18. The appearance of Stokes to Miss Crittenton was an-

The message said the Stokes
yacht, the Calypso, was wrecked
March 18, about 50 miles off the port of Charleston, S. C., and the
he and the crew had taken to sea
in a small boat. Details of the experience were lacking.

MAROONED IN A FERRIS-WHEEL

NEW YORK, March 22.—Un-
aware that Miles Kehoe, 35 years
old, of Jersey City, dozed in a car
of the big Ferris wheel at Coney
Island, 170 feet above the ground,
employees turned off the power at 5:30 o'clock last evening and went home. Kehoe dozed until ocean
waves awakened him. Then he climbed to state his position. He
intellectual once-over" and found
that he did not balance the side of
the scale wherein "fair play, justice and common sense" were
placed.

"This movement must be free
from party lines," he said. "If
none of those who voted for Mayor
Miller will vote against him, the
move is useless. It must be non-
political, nonpartisan, dispassion-
ate and without bigotry."

Mrs. Ryder said mothers of St.
Louis, interested in preservation of
health, would oppose Mayor Miller
because he had permitted the removal of Dr. H. I. Spector, formerly city tuberculosis controller.

inclination to back out of the

and a willingness to torpedo the League of Nations for political cap-

PRESIDENT TO AVOID PUBLIC FOR FEW DAYS

No Cancellation of State Functions, However, as Social Season Is Past.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 20-22 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, March 22.—After experiencing two days of winter cold, President Coolidge, returning from his father's funeral in Plymouth, Vt., stepped into the balmy spring air of Washington yesterday. He and Mrs. Coolidge, accompanied by Attorney-General Sargent, reached the capital at 7:10 a. m., their special train from Woodstock, Vt., arriving on time.

The change in weather was such that Mr. Coolidge donned a light gray suit in the afternoon and walked about the residential district near the White House without an overcoat. He wore a tan felt hat.

Robins flew about the White House grounds, and in the flower beds tulips, jonquills and hyacinths were peeping out and buds were appearing on the early leafing trees. The temperature reached 55 degrees.

President Coolidge went directly to the White House and remained there during the morning. He did not go to church. He is expected to go into mourning and refrain for a time from public appearances. It will be unnecessary to cancel state functions at the White House, because the social season is now past.

It is thought likely that President Coolidge will return to Plymouth next summer, probably after he speaks at the Sequoyia Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in July. This would place him in Plymouth on the anniversary of the death of his son, Calvin Jr., who died in Washington July 7, 1924, and was buried in Plymouth July 10. The trip would permit Mr. Coolidge also to see the disposition of the old family home, which many wish to preserve for the public because of its historic associations.

456 signatures of registered voters for the recall petitions, equals more than one-half the vote cast for Miller's opponent, William L. Igoe, for Mayor in the election last April. Igoe's vote was 117,254. Because of the provisions as to distribution by wards, and the shrinkage in the examination of signatures by the Election Board, it would probably be necessary to get 30,000 signatures to insure a recall election.

WOMAN CAUSES CAPTURE OF TWO ROBBERS IN HOME

Mrs. Beatrice Lowrey Runs From House in Night Gown and Barefoot and Calls Police.

THREE ARMED MEN HAD FORCED WAY IN

One of Intruders, Who Had Husband Covered With Revolvers and Were Searching Place, Escapes.

When three young men, bent on robbery, burst open the front door of Mrs. Beatrice Lowrey's home, at 3363 Delmar boulevard, at 3 a. m. last night, Lowrey's wife, Beatrice, 22 years old, ran to the alley clad in night gown, barefoot.

For 15 minutes Lowrey stood with hands raised, wondering what had become of her husband, while the robbers searched for money and jewelry. Then the telephone rang. Mrs. Lowrey, stating she was asleep, and inquiring what was wrong, with a pistol at his back, Lowrey assured her all was well, and she returned to her room.

At 7:10 a. m. Lowrey was awakened by a knock at her door. She opened the door and found three men in the hallway. One of the men, who had been covered with revolvers, was searching the place, and the other two were standing by.

Lowrey fled to her room, and called the police. The police arrived at 7:30 a. m. and found the three men in the hallway. One of the men, who had been covered with revolvers, was searching the place, and the other two were standing by.

The wreck of an automobile struck by a Vandeventer car at Boyle avenue at 2:30 p. m. yesterday and left hanging in a sewer excavation into which its four occupants were thrown. ### GERMANY FREE TO DROP APPLICATION TO ENTER LEAGUE

Dr. Stresemann concluded by saying that continued occupation of the second and third Rhine zones by the allies was incompatible with the Locarno policy and Germany's attitude, and it was a unanimous decision of the German Government to follow up the policy begun at Locarno.

The pre-eminent cause of the "Geneva catastrophe," Count Westarp, Nationalist leader, said, could be laid to Locarno, "where behind the back of the German mediation Poland was promised a permanent seat in the Council to offset the German influence."

"We censure Chancellor Luther and Foreign Minister Stresemann," he continued, "for not having opposed Poland's demand for a Council seat to their utmost capacity, and we demand that Germany at the autumn session reject Poland's entry into the League of Nations in any form."

Count Westarp said it was a misnomer to speak of equal privileges for Germany with the other nations so long as general disarmament failed of consummation. He insisted that it was a humiliation for Germany that her delegation, after having been invited to Geneva, was obliged to sit cooling its heels for 10 days and then depart with its object unaccomplished.

"Back to Wilson." Discussing the breakdown of the Geneva negotiations, the Boersen Courier says that "despite the ignominious betrayal of Germany's confidence in his 14 points, 'Back to Wilson' should be the political slogan for Germany."

Notwithstanding President Wilson's "personal failure," the Boersen organ believes that his following everywhere is prepared to take up the cudgels in behalf of his international peace platform, and declares that it is up to Germany to assume the leadership by getting into the work with the League of Nations.

"What President Wilson wanted was a world league," says the Boersen Courier. "What actually came into being was an alliance of the European victors, to which a few South American and Asiatic states became loosely attached for purpose. Even these few non-European states are numerically excessive, considering the League's radius of action outside of Europe."

It cites such an eventuality as a conflict between Brazil and Uruguay, both members of the Council, in which situation the League would instantly ward off foreign interference.

"With an American delegate seated in the Council," it adds, "the Monroe Doctrine could not assert itself. But it remained an inviolable American principle when the United States rejected the treaty of Versailles."

By the Associated Press. STOCKHOLM, March 22.—Sweden's policy at the recent League Assembly in Geneva, coupled with the collapse of some of the Government's projected special reforms, has brought predictions among the non-Socialist parties of a cabinet crisis and the overthrow of the Government in the near future.

Foreign Minister Under went to Geneva backed by the opinion of Parliament that Germany should be elected to the League forthwith. The possibility that this stand might result in adjournment of the League Assembly was foreseen. The sacrifice of Sweden in the League Council met with condemnation from many prominent men of all parties.

tem of courts there would be re-aid in New York State alone a minimum of $15,000,000 to enforce prohibition. I have received no support from any quarter, official or unofficial, wet or dry, for any such radical reorganization.

Federal Police Courts Objectionable. "I can readily understand why. The protection of a vast network of Federal police courts into our states is offensive to those who believe in home rule. But it is the logical result of the Volstead act to mean what it says, unless the states will voluntarily take over the job and do about 90 per cent of it. And that is just precisely what I am informed by everyone is expected at the time of the adoption of the amendment."

"New York State by ratifying the amendment, entered into the partnership, but it has now withdrawn from the partnership, and Uncle Sam is left standing alone behind the counter trying to run a business which he alone cannot possibly run."

"It is perfectly proper to negotiate with the states as to precisely what kind of prohibition they are willing to help enforce. If New York State says we are willing to form a partnership for prohibition enforcement, if light wine and beer are excluded, then it is much better to have such a partnership and to have the law respected and enforced, than to have the present condition of affairs in New York State."

"And if Kansas says 'we are willing to form a partnership for prohibition enforcement for all liquor above one-half of one per cent' then it is perfectly proper for the partnership to be formed on that basis."

In my judgment, a modification of the Volstead law, so as to define alcoholic content where there is no State law, but permitting the State to define alcoholic content for both State and Federal enforcement agents would be of great assistance in combating crime, bribery, perjury and blackmail."

Different Kinds of Prohibition. "If you say that this would lead to different kinds of prohibition in different states, I reply that we already have different kinds of prohibition in different states."

"I am in favor of a referendum. This is a democratic country and we have a representative government. It is much better for our Congressmen and our Senators to know what the voters of New York think than to guess what they think."

ORPHAN SISTERS TRY TO END LIVES BY SWALLOWING POISON Irene and Elizabeth Allen Will Recover at Mexico, Mo. Home for Delinquents.

POLICEMAN HOOKS BRIBE-GIVER, FAILS TO LAND HIM

Detective Informed Case Against Operator of Horseshoe Lake Farm on East Side Is Too Old.

Details of an effort by the leader of a big Madison County moonshining gang to bribe a policeman to let alcohol trucks cross the McKinley Bridge unmolested, became known today.

The offer, which included an actual payment of $50 to the officer, was made to protect trucks carrying alcohol to St. Louis from the Sullivan farm at Horseshoe Lake, where the bodies of Constable Ohmer Hockett and John Balke were found buried last Feb. 5.

The plan to catch the moonshiner in the act of giving a bribe was laid by Detective Sergeant Thomas Murphy shortly after he had been assigned to the McKinley Bridge in a general transfer last September. He had been on his new post only a short time when he was approached by a moonshiner's representative.

Federal Agent Helps. Putting a man off with a non-committal reply, Murphy, under orders from Chief of Detectives Kalsner, appealed to Federal officials for aid in making a case against the man who proffered the bribe. A Federal prohibition agent was assigned to help him.

On Sept. 17 last, about 3 p. m., the moonshiner's leader approached Murphy and the Federal agent and again offered the policeman a bribe to let the truck pass. He declared that he was unable to pay a heavy tribute because he was forced to pay protection in Madison County and also asserted that in months previous he had bribed St. Louis policemen to look the other way when his trucks passed.

After some discussion he handed Murphy $48 and departed, after telling the policeman a truck would be coming over from the East Side in a short time. When the truck arrived, other Federal agents, who had gone to the bridgehead to carry out the general plan laid upon Murphy's information, seized the truck.

False Bottom in Machine. To all appearances it had no cargo, but a search disclosed a false bottom, in which 200 gallons of alcohol were found. Joe Gaccho, the driver of the truck, was arrested and is now in jail. It is reported that he is now dead.

On the strength of what they had witnessed, Murphy and the Federal agent asked District Attorney Curry for a warrant against the man who proffered the bribe, but he refused to issue because Murphy had received the money instead of the Federal officer.

Two weeks ago Sgt. Murphy applied to Assistant Circuit Attorney Wilson for a State warrant against the moonshiner, but it was refused on the ground that there was insufficient evidence to support a bribery charge and that the case was old, the alleged violation of the law having been committed last fall.

BROKEN ANTENNAE KILLS TWO Partners in St. Paul Meet Death When One Touches Radio Aerial.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 22.—A broken radio antenna, which two weeks ago had fallen across a 2500-volt power line, caused the deaths today of William Phillips and Simon Simpson, partners in a radio business here. Harold Mosier, who was said by the police to be one of the men who originally strung up the aerial across an alley, was held for investigation.

It is believed one of the men had touched the charged wire, as he attempted to avoid a mud hole. The other is thought to have met death when he tried to rescue his partner.

25-CENT FEES FOR DIVORCES Service Given Poor Persons by New York Legal Aid Society.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Divorces at a cost to the plaintiffs of only 25 cents as legal fees have been among the cases handled for poor persons by the Legal Aid Society here.

Figures made public by the society show that it has handled cases for $3,346 clients and recovered $3,716,489 for them since the society's inception in 1876. These cases included annulment and separation suits and action against swindlers.

GOLFER IN $25,000 MATCH HAS ADVANTAGE OF 4 UP

A. M. Andrews in Good Position to Make F. M. Bartlett Pay Quoted Price for Chicago Property.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 22.—With a four up advantage over his rival, Archie M. Andrews of the Annandale Country Club, was an overwhelming favorite over Frederick H. Bartlett of the Midwick Club when their $25,000 golfing duel was resumed at a "secret hour" today.

The final 18 holes of the 26-hole match, which has attracted national attention owing to the magnitude of the monetary prize involved, were to be played at the Annandale Club, but the principals and their coaches kept secret the starting time to thwart persons who wished to witness the contest.

When the match was concluded, $25,000 will be added to or lopped off a real estate deal which started the argument.

If Andrews wins he will sell his office building in Chicago to Bartlett for $575,000. If Bartlett wins he will pay $550,000, the maximum price he set for the property.

The first 18 holes of the match were played yesterday at the Midwick Club and the combat was something of a walkaway for Andrews. He outscored and outgeneraled his rival, whose standing in the golf world was rated so high that under the terms of the match he was supposed to give his opponent a handicap of two strokes.

FLOODS IN PENNSYLVANIA TOWNS AFTER ICE BREAKS Several Hundred Persons in Oil City and Franklin Driven From Home.

By the Associated Press. OIL CITY, Pa., March 22.—Industry was stopped, the principal markets of the city closed and several hundred persons were driven from their homes here today as a result of flood conditions which followed a partial movement of the 25-mile series of ice gorges in the Allegheny River last night. The river was rising and a weather forecast of rain for tonight and tomorrow gave the situation a still more serious aspect.

Parts of the Big Rock bridge near Franklin, which fell during the gorge movement, lay in the Allegheny River channel. Ice was jammed high around the understructure of the Reno bridge here. Among the Oil City buildings flooded were the city hall, the Federal building, the telephone exchange and the Fire Department.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Che Mah, who became wealthy through being exhibited as "the smallest man in the world," died at the age of 88. He was 28 inches in stature and wore a queue 13 feet long.

He was found on the Island of Choo Sang by the late P. T. Barnum in 1881, and for a long time was in the employ of the famous showman. In 1890 he retired at Knox, Ind. He is survived by a son, living in Brooklyn, N. Y.

ROBBERS WALK IN ON A POLICEMAN AND ONE IS SHOT

Patrolman Frank E. Gibbons Prevents Holdup of Auto Place at 4739 McPherson Avenue.

One of two robbers who visited the Kissel-Skiles automobile rental agency, 4739 McPherson avenue, early yesterday, was shot by a policeman, but escaped. A wounded man later found on a sidewalk in South St. Louis has been identified as the robber. He denies the charge and asserts he was shot during an altercation in East St. Louis.

The wounded man described himself as John McHugh, 25 years old, rooming at 1735 Carr street. He said he served during the war as a military policeman in Paris, attached to the Second Cavalry. His condition is critical. A bullet entered his abdomen and emerged from his back.

Patrolman Frank E. Gibbons, who shot the robber, is a war veteran, having been a top sergeant. He has been a policeman for seven years and last week he won a medal for expert marksmanship in a police revolver tournament. He is 33 years old and resides at 2715 Arlington avenue.

At 2:10 a. m. yesterday two men knocked on the door of the Kissel-Skiles office. At that time Paul Ward, 4903 Washington boulevard, was in the front of the office, to pay the rent on a car, and the night manager, Grady Gooch, and Patrolman Gibbons, who had dropped in on his round of duty, were in the rear of the office, separated by a partition from the front.

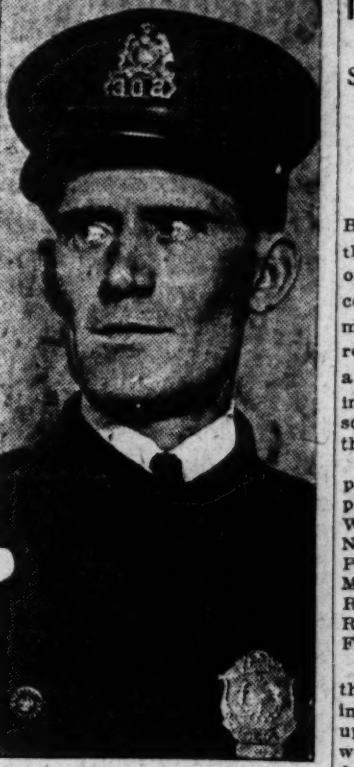

Policeman's Story of Shooting. What happened was related today by Patrolman Gibbons at his home: "Gooch looked at the two men through a window in the partition and said they didn't 'look good' to him. I thought they were suspicious looking and I drew my revolver."

"Ward opened the door and the first man to step inside shoved a revolver against Ward and ordered him to 'stick 'em up.' Realizing they were robbers, I fired through the window at the first man and he dropped to the floor, firing a wild shot at me as he fell. The second man ran out into McPherson avenue. I fired two shots at him."

"I couldn't open the door leading to the front of the office, so I ran around and got out through the garage door. By that time the wounded robber had disappeared. The second robber ran across the street to an automobile occupied by another man and they sped east in McPherson, out of my range."

It was thought at first that the wounded man had escaped in the automobile, but police later discovered a trail of blood-stains from a hallway near the Kissel-Skiles office to Taylor avenue and Delmar boulevard, indicating the robber had hidden in the hallway after being shot. He then walked to Delmar and Taylor, where he hired a taxi cab which took him to a rooming house in the 2800 block of Page boulevard. Another taxi cab was summoned there and took him to the 2200 block of South Broadway.

At 7 a. m. police found the unconscious form of McHugh on the sidewalk in front of 2216 South Broadway. At City Hospital he was viewed by Gooch and Ward and identified as the robber. Patrolman Gibbons did not get a good look at the robber and could not make an identification.

McHugh Denies Charges. To reporters McHugh related that he met three acquaintances Saturday night in a poolroom near Grand boulevard and Easton avenue and went with them to a Negro cafe in East St. Louis, where McHugh says he became intoxicated and was shot in a quarrel with someone. He said he was then carried to an automobile and lost consciousness, recovering in the hospital.

McHugh said he recently applied to the Government for war compensation, believing he injured his heart when in the army. He has been employed intermittently at odd jobs. Police records show he has been arrested 10 times on various charges, but never convicted.

SANITATION IN COUNTY REPORTED AS MENACE

State Engineers Make Known Their Findings as to 14 Districts.

Sanitary engineers of the State Board of Health reported today to the State Board at Jefferson City on their investigation of sanitary conditions in 14 districts and communities of St. Louis County. They reported that they found conditions a menace to health. There were insufficient sewer facilities and in some cases no public sewers at all, they found.

The districts, as their names appear in the sanitary engineers' report, are Wellston, Pine Lawn, West Walnut Manor, Jennings, Normandy, Woodland, Overland Park, Vinita Park, Brentwood, Meramec, Northwest Maplewood, River des Peres district No. 1, Richmond Heights and Lemay Ferry district.

The engineers say they found that sewage flows on the surface in many instances in closely built-up communities and that almost without exception the natural drainage courses passing through the districts have become open sewers. This condition, it is declared, is becoming more serious as population increases. The population of the 14 districts is estimated at 80,000, representing an increase of 50 per cent in the last three years.

"No other community exists in Missouri," the report says, "with the same population, so densely located, without adequate sewerage disposal. Elimination of these conditions is vital for protection of residents from the spread of filth-borne diseases, and from conditions becoming increasingly intolerable nuisances. The discharge and overflow of sewage in the open, within a built-up area, in the manner occurring in these communities, is a positive menace to the health of the residents."

The engineers recommend that sewer districts be organized and sewer systems installed under a law passed by the last Legislature permitting issuance of bonds by districts. They state that there are instances in which subdivisions have been opened without sewers or with haphazard and inadequate sewers.

They recommend also that all future installation of sewers be controlled by the county authorities and the County Health Commissioner.

CONSTIPATED SO BAD PILLS WERE USELESS

Milks Emulsion soon had him in fine shape, able to work.

"I suffered a great deal from stomach trouble, and was sick in bed several times with it. Doctors couldn't do me any good, and pills had no effect whatever. I was so badly constipated. I was not able to work."

"I saw your advertisement in the papers and began taking Milks Emulsion. It sure did help me, and I have been taking it ever since last December. I feel that it saved my life. I only take a dose every morning now as I am in fine shape, and able to work every day."—Wm. McClellan, Stockport, Ohio.

Milks Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all needs of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food, thus building flesh and strength, which are Nature's only aids in conquering germs and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion. If not satisfied with results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. Sold by druggists everywhere.

M'CUTCCHAN SAYS HE'LL PAY LOSSES OF LA DUE BANK

Bargain Struck by St. Louisans, Depositor, County Prosecutor and State Finance Officer.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CLINTON, Mo., March 22.—Under an agreement reached here Saturday by officials, depositors in the Bank of LaDue, in Henry County, and J. B. McCutchan of St. Louis and others indicted in charges of wrecking the bank, the indicted men will escape prosecution on the payment by McCutchan of an amount sufficient to enable the depositors to be paid in full and the expenses incident to the liquidation of the bank and the prosecution.

The conference, which resulted in an arrangement unusual in the criminal procedure of the State, was attended by Fred P. Wesner, Prosecuting Attorney of Henry County; E. A. Major, a Deputy State Finance Commissioner, in charge of the bank, a committee of depositors, McCutchan, and E. E. Weeks and Ralph E. Paige, who were indicted with McCutchan. The trials of the three were to have been called in Warsaw, Mo., today, but the Prosecuting Attorney agreed to continue them one week to give McCutchan time to obtain the funds necessary to meet his part of the agreement.

Must Satisfy Depositors. It was brought out at the conference that McCutchan had paid into the bank $2500, which represented a part of the money involved in the scheme through which the State charged McCutchan had mulcted the bank, and had also paid an overdraft of $668. The Prosecuting Attorney was said to have insisted that in addition McCutchan must pay over enough money to meet the demands of depositors, must pay the expense to which the county has been in getting the indictments.

The representative of the State Finance Department is said to have directed attention to the cost to the bank of the liquidation, which has necessitated the attention of one man nearly a year. McCutchan is said to have agreed to produce this money within 10 days if the cases were continued. Prosecuting Attorney Wesner told a Post-Dispatch correspondent that if McCutchan "made good" on his promise, the charges against him, Weeks and Paige would be dismissed.

The LaDue bank scandal, as outlined by representatives of the State at the time the bank was closed in April, 1924, came immediately following the Gorin case and others, which led up to the removal by Gov. Baker of Frank C. Millsbaugh, then State Finance Commissioner, who was a close friend of McCutchan. McCutchan was involved in a number of banks which failed with immense losses to depositors and stockholders. Peculiar Manipulation. The story of the LaDue Bank was one of peculiar bank manipulation. It was a prosperous small bank with a capital of only $10,000, and deposits of about $50,000. In the fall of 1923, H. H. Holloper, the president, cashier and principal owner, decided he wished to sell his interest in the bank. A few months later Weeks, a Kansas City real estate man, Ed Parsley and Paige, both of Ottawa, Kan., and S. C. Goff of Blocton, Ia., all of whose names figured in other McCutchan deals, contacted

The Paris Spring openings, which only a fleeting while ago, introduced these new styles gave them whole-hearted endorsement. The silhouettes portrayed are the most successful ones of the season. We have taken our own importations and copied them at but a fraction of the cost of the original. Women of St. Louis may thereby have the pleasure of wearing—at little cost—an original style while it is exclusive.

The accuracy apparent in these reproductions demonstrates how truly the style and lines of original Paris models are brought to St. Louis women in our presentation of fashions.

SEIZED MOONSHINE RIVALS BEST DISTILLERY PRODUCTS

U. S. Dry Agents Find 500 Gallons of Good Liquor at Fluke, Mo.; Arrest Six Men.

Federal prohibition agents, under James Dillon, who returned today from Fluke, Mo., reported finding 500 gallons of excellent moonshine whiskey and 7000 gallons of mash in raids on three farms and a saloon there yesterday.

Dillon, who before becoming a prohibition agent spent a score of years as a gauger in Government warehouses, declared the "moonshine" found yesterday rivaled the best distillery products. The biggest cache of the liquor was in a smokehouse on the farm of Omar Mundy, where 12 barrels, containing 30 gallons each, were discovered. A still and 5400 gallons of the same brand of liquor, joining farm occupied by George W. Williamson, and a second still and 100 gallons of whiskey and a quantity of mash was discovered on the farm of William Beskies. A raid on the saloon of William Baysinger, in Fluke, disclosed 40 gallons of the same brand of liquor. Baysinger, Williamson, Mundy, Beskies, the latter's son, William Jr., and a farm hand giving the name of William Hoffman, were taken before a United States Commissioner at Poplar Bluff, where all furnished bond.

POLICE ARREST MAN ON HORSE, WHO SOUGHT DRINKS FOR PARTY

Rider Tells Detectives Gathering Had Gone Dry and He Was Out Seeking More.

"Is this Paul Rovers, or what?" Detective Wedemeyer asked his partner, Detective Spies, as their attention was attracted by the clatter of hoofs at Broadway and Salisbury street at 3:15 a. m. today. As he spoke, a horseman dashed by, the shoes of his horse striking sparks from the pavement. The detectives pursued and waved the rider to a stop within a few blocks. He explained that a party which he was attending had "gone dry," run out of home brew, and he was out searching for more. After his story had been confirmed, the horse was returned to his stable and the rider was lodged in the North Market street police station. He was released this morning.

M'CUTCHAN SAYS
HE'LL PAY LOSSES OF LA DUE BANK

Cutchan had no funds on deposit, and Hollolpeter refused to pay it. The purchasers being in charge immediately removed Hollolpeter. Weeks became cashier, the check was honored and was found by an examiner of the State Department among the unpaid cash items in the bank.

It was figured at the time that when the bank closed, McCutchan and his associates had bought it for $8000, and immediately became indebted to it to the amount of $9197.50, a part of it money taken from the bank to make up the purchase price. The indictments followed a grand jury investigation.

Commissioner French Authorized No Deal, He Says.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 22.—State Finance Commissioner French today said he had received no information regarding a conference on the LaDue bank prosecutions. He said the examiner in charge in LaDue had not been authorized to enter into any conference regarding the dropping of criminal prosecution, and that it was contrary to the policy of the department to agree to such action on restitution of funds. He said, however, the department had no authority over the prosecuting attorney in any action he might wish to take.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested food? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramping or pain. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it cannot penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

CHURCH COUNCIL APPEALS FOR ALIENS

Says Enforcement of Laws Regarding Them Should Be Free of Antagonism.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
WASHINGTON, March 22.—"Human and considerate treatment of aliens in this country" is urged by the administrative committee of the Federal Council of Churches. The Council's statement, made public today, says:

"In view of the present discussion concerning a rigid surveillance of aliens now in this country and the proposed deportation of aliens who fail to comply with all the provisions for annual registration, the administrative committee desires to express its apprehension in regard to the proposals now before Congress and to record its convictions concerning certain principles which we believe should guide the United States in its treatment of aliens within its borders.

"While heartily agreeing that every proper effort should be made to curb the illegal entry of aliens to promote respect for law by all in our midst, and to further the incorporation of aliens into our community life, we feel strongly that all steps which are taken to secure these ends should be free from any spirit of antagonism toward aliens and from any features which will be humiliating to them.

"Any law which aims to safeguard the nation from anti-social influences, but which in practice makes aliens residing in America feel that they have been subjected to annoying espionage or unjust discriminations, would defeat the very ends which it is designed to serve. It would create an attitude of illwill toward our Government, rather than an attitude of friendly confidence."

The administrative committee adopted a resolution that, in its judgment, laws dealing with the deportation of aliens:

"1. Should provide adequate checks on more routine procedure in order to prevent, as far as possible, the tragedy of having people railroaded out of the country who have a legal right to residence.

"2. Should make every possible provision to prevent the law from being used as a means for blackmail and intimidation by unscrupulous knaves and cunning sharks."

The council would allow aliens who served in the United States Army during the World War to return to the United States regardless of the present immigration restrictions.

13 Chinese Rebels Killed by Dutch.
By the Associated Press.

BATAVIA, Java, March 22.—Thirteen Chinese rebels have been killed in a fight with a Dutch military detachment sent to Achin, Sumatra, where trouble broke out early this month. Among the rebels killed was the leader of the band which attacked a Dutch patrol March 2, killing 10 soldiers and wounding six. One Dutch sergeant was killed and three soldiers of the relief force were seriously wounded in the latest clash.

15 Killed in Earthquake.
By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 22.—A Constantinople dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph reports a severe earthquake in Adalia, Asia Minor, with 15 deaths.

*"And to think
I was poisoning
my own Baby!"*

"I couldn't see why he didn't gain. I never dreamed that my constipation was responsible until the doctor told me.

"He explained that faulty or slow elimination of waste matter allowed poisons to form and be absorbed by the blood—and this meant tainted milk for baby.

"He prescribed the Nujol treatment and it made a world of difference to both of us. Now that I know how dangerous constipation is and how easily it is prevented, I'm never going to allow myself to get into that condition again.

Nujol helps Nature in Nature's own way

Mother is the best friend of Nujol. When precious new lives are at stake they seek the remedy that medical authorities approve because it is so safe, gentle, and natural in its action.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach and is not absorbed by the body.

Nujol simply makes up for a deficiency—temporary or chronic—in the supply of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular elimination, without overtaxing the intestinal muscles.

Nujol can be taken for any length of time without ill effects. To insure internal cleanliness, it should be taken regularly in accordance with the directions on each bottle. Unlike laxatives, it does not form a habit and can be discontinued at any time.

Ask your druggist for Nujol today and begin to enjoy the perfect health that is possible only when elimination is normal and regular.

WOMAN BEATEN WITH A GOLF CLUB

Assailant Said to Have Made Wife Agree to Divorce Her Husband.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Mrs. Tamm Osborn, a divorcee, was arrested today charged with assault with intent to murder Mrs. Beatrice Caine, whom she beat with a golf club. Mrs. Caine is the wife of John F. Caine, a department manager for the American Can Co.

Some time last night Mrs. Osborn entered the Caine apartment and hid in a closet, police said. She remained until after Mrs. Caine had gone to sleep. Having provided herself with the club and a revolver, the woman attacked Mrs. Caine, beating her until she agreed to sue for a divorce so that Mrs. Osborn could have her husband. Mrs. Osborn then fled.

Caine, his wife said, had been attentive to Mrs. Osborn long before they were married seven years ago. After the marriage, she said, his attentions had not ceased. Caine, who has been in New York on a business trip, was expected home today.

The women agreed as to details of the beating, the police said, but Mrs. Osborn denied she had entered the house during Mrs. Caine's absence, declaring Mrs. Caine had let her in earlier in the night.

DIRTY PENNY CAUSES ARREST OF YOUTH FOR A ROBBERY

Coin Coated With Concrete, Among Ones Stolen, Traced by Police.

A penny coated with concrete so that it would not stick, even caused the arrest today of Bert Leeman, 19 years old, Maryland Heights, on a charge of breaking into the grocery store of W. C. Anderson in Maryland Heights Saturday night and taking $3.30 in silver and $3 in pennies. Anderson remembered that one of the pennies bore a coating of concrete and told Deputy Constable A. D. Webb, who made a canvass of confectioneries and "hot dog" stands until he found the coin. The owner of the place said Leeman had given it in a purchase.

POLICE STATION SITE PURCHASE APPROVED

Nolte to O K Voucher for $204,956, but Thinks
Price Is Too High.

Comptroller Nolte, in announcing today that he would approve a voucher from the Police Board for $204,956, for the purchase of a site at Twelfth street and Clark avenue for a new Police Headquarters building, said, however, he thought the price was excessive. The property, partly occupied by old buildings, front 250 feet on Clark avenue and runs south to Spruce street on the west side of Twelfth street.

The Comptroller said it was assessed at $112,640, which, on the basis of 70 per cent of true value, would give it an estimated valuation of $160,914. He cited prices for which three of the component lots on Clark avenue had been sold in 1924, compared with the prices to be paid now, as follows: One fronting 24 feet, owned by R. E. White, was sold for $4150, price now, $10,000; one fronting 35 feet, owned by Albert Von Hoffman, was sold for $6500 according to revenue stamps on deed, price now, $21,500; one fronting 60 feet, owned by Prekiser Real Estate Co., was sold for $10,500, price now $36,000.

Prices per front foot vary considerably, the Comptroller pointed out, that for the Von Hoffman lot being more than $600, while others are about $400, and the corner is costing $945.

Henry Kortjohn, purchasing member of the Police Board, said neither he nor G. William Senn, city condemnation attorney, John H. Gundlach and Theodore Heilmann, real estate men, thought the price was high. Months of investigation, he declared, showed that no other site in the neighborhood could be obtained so cheaply. The Memorial Plaza project, provided for in the 1923 bond issue, caused property values in this section to soar, he added. When the city widens Twelfth street it will take 40 feet from the property and then can credit itself with about $40,000 damages it would have had to pay to the private owners if the police had not bought the site.

SALES TAX ORDINANCE UPHOLD

U. S. Supreme Court Refuses to Review St. Louis Case.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The United States Supreme Court today declined to review the case of the American Manufacturing Co. against the City of St. Louis. The suit was filed in United States District Court at St. Louis in August, 1924, to test the validity of a city ordinance that imposes a tax on interstate sales by concerns doing business in St. Louis. Judge Paris upheld the constitutionality of the ordinance and was sustained on appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. A petition for a review of the case was then filed at Washington.

HOW OUTDOOR MEN TREAT MUSCLE-STRAIN

Sprains, bruises, rheumatism also yield to this treatment

Outdoor men who do hard muscular work, who undergo exposure and risk of accident every day, know how necessary it is to give prompt attention to muscle-strain, bruises, sprains and other injuries.

A member of a survey party, sent out by the government of British Columbia to do sub-division work three hundred miles from civilization writes: "The chief of our party with rare foresight brought along as a part of our first aid supply a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. And through weeks of exposure and hardship we found it our best help for sprains, bruises, stiff muscles and rheumatism."

Sloan's gives real relief because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It helps your body to throw off the cause. Just a little Sloan's rubbed on lightly—and a healing tide of fresh new blood is sent right to the place that hurts. The aching and stiffness are helped right away. ## NATIONAL ARMY EVACUATES TIENTSIN AS FOE ADVANCES

Kuominchun Troops Reported Only 86 Miles Ahead of Forces Under Chang Tso-Lin.

By the Associated Press.
TIENTSIN, March 22.—This city of 750,000 inhabitants was evacuated completely today by the Kuominchun or national army troops in their retreat toward Peking, 86 miles ahead of the victorious troops of Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian dictator, and those of his allies from the province of Shantung. The city was thrown into a brief panic by the sudden appearance of hundreds of armed men wearing armlets of Gen. Li Ching-Ling, former Civil Governor of Chihli Province. They had secreted themselves in the Japanese and French settlements, and rushed into the native city in automobiles, while Kuominchun troops were marching toward Peking. A few Kuominchun stragglers were shot by Li Ching-Ling soldiers, who also frequently fired Mauser rifles into the air. Presently the firing ceased. Gen. Li-Ching-Ling was reported to be at the central railway station, while Gen. Chang Tsung-Chang, Governor of Shantung Province, his associate, took possession of West Station.

EX-SALESMAN AT 46 BIG BUSINESS LEADER

R. H. Grant, Once a Canvasser on Streets Here, Vice President of Chevrolet Company.

R. H. Grant, who 20 years ago tramped the streets of St. Louis with a cash register under his arm as a store-to-store salesman, returned today to lecture 600 dealers and many bankers from three states on methods of the Chevrolet Motor Co., of which, at 46, he is vice president and general manager.

From that it may be guessed that he did not carry the same cash register for the whole 18 months of his first stay here. There were so many different ones, in fact, that when he left to return East he went as a city sales manager of the National Cash Register Co. A few years earlier he had been graduated from Harvard after working his way through. Along in 1915, when the invention of the self-starter was beginning to rob caricaturists of one of their favorite subjects, he "got in on the ground floor" of the Delco Light Co. and "made" its sales of self-starting ignition and lighting systems, which later branched out into farm and home lighting and even electrical refrigeration. He joined the Chevrolet company in his present capacity in 1924.

With W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, and 12 members of the staff, he is touring centers of Chevrolet trade territories, beginning in New York at the national automobile show. From here they go to Oklahoma City. This afternoon they will give a combined moving picture show and lecture on desirable salesmanship at the Community Center, Grand boulevard and Vista avenue, and tonight a dinner in the Hotel Statler ballroom.

Grant and Knudsen expressed confidence in a lively automobile trade until August, and a better trade then if crops are good. They made the reservation, however, that the trade would not be strong enough to carry over automobiles without substantial reputations, since buying in this business, as in others, was marked by caution as well as strength. Grant, mentioning the Chevrolet exports to London, Buenos Aires, Copenhagen and Australia of 75,000 automobiles annually, said he expected the automobile export business to grow. He said the St. Louis Chevrolet plant was running to capacity.

Weds "Girl" He Left Behind in '61

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 21.—Old friends today entertained H. Waldo Howe, 80 years old, in honor of his marriage to the girl he left behind when he marched off to the Civil War. The bride is 78. Howe, who lives in Quincy, Ill., was courting Rose Alma Benson, when the Civil War began. They parted. Later Howe married, and so did the girl. Her husband and Mrs. Howe died, and the former sweethearts met, for the first time since their parting, in Quincy recently. The old romance was renewed, and they married Thursday.

A raw throat invites infection

THERE is always danger that a sore throat may have grave consequences. To get rid of it—to avoid the serious troubles to which it may give rise—give it antiseptic treatment at once and make that treatment continuous.

Gargles, sprays, swabs fail because ordinarily you cannot use them throughout the day.

Doctors endorse Formamint because it is the only throat antiseptic of proved germicidal power with which you can keep up your fight against germs all day—wherever you happen to be.

To treat sore throat, take one of the pleasant-tasting tablets every hour or so. To avoid infection, take one about every two hours whenever you are exposed to disease, dust or chill.

Says Headaches, Dizzy Spells and Sluggishness, All Danger Signals of High Blood Pressure

If you did not know that these and other conditions such as sleeplessness, nervousness, shortness of breath, flushed face, pains in the head and chronic tired feeling are danger signals of high blood pressure it is time you needed their warning.

Now that it is known high blood pressure brings on Bright's Disease, Apoplexy and often sudden death, folks should not neglect these symptoms, but should check them at once.

First-class druggists everywhere are now selling a purely vegetable medicine and a famous Buffalo physician's prescription called Norma, which safely reduces high blood pressure.

Norma eliminates from the system the poisonous waste matter which may have clogged it and caused one or more organs to weaken and bring greater pressure to bear on the heart. The effect of Norma is immediate. Often one bottle will reduce high blood pressure. Many have so testified. Check high blood with Norma. You can get it from Wolff-Wilson Drug Store, Walgreen Drug Co., or any other good druggist.

FASCISM FROM THE INSIDE

Rossi Says Witnesses At Chieti Trial Were Bought Up in Advance

Expatriate Points to Double Import and Contradictory Nature of Testimony Against Alleged Slayers.

THIS is the last of a series of articles on Fascism, particularly with reference to the murder of the socialist deputy Matteotti, by Count Cesare Rossi, former head of the quadrumvirate ruling Italy and as such an intimate colleague of Premier Mussolini. In general, Rossi has charged Mussolini with responsibility for organizing the secret terrorist body, the Tcheka, and with its acts of blood and violence. Rossi, a fugitive from Italy, is now in Paris.

By CESARE ROSSI.
PARIS, March 19.
THE Chieti trial of the five alleged slayers of Matteotti is trumpeted by the Government as the final act which will definitely dispose of the Matteotti case. But Matteotti's ghost, which has haunted Mussolini for two years, will not be laid by any such fantastic incantation. The patent absurdities and almost incredibly stupid contradictions in the evidence which the Court has so blandly glossed over only serve to accentuate the scandals.

Some day I shall analyze by documents every step of this amazing business. But now I shall confine myself to one significant aspect: That the Fascist regime, amid a maze of errors and contradictions, has issued two different orders to two different sets of witnesses, enabling on some the closest reticence and on others unbridled volubility, the former to conceal material facts and the latter to confuse the issue with irrelevances.

Marinelli's Reticence.
The maximum of reticence—even to the point of ridiculousness—was offered in Marinelli's responses during the investigation of the affair. One must always bear in mind, first, that Marinelli was not arrested by Government order, but on the initiative of the judicial authorities, on June 15; second, that he was the administrative secretary and treasurer of the party entrusted by Mussolini with financing the Tcheka; third, on Sunday and Monday, June 15 and 16, notwithstanding information said to have been given Mussolini by Debono, Rossi, immediately after the Matteotti crime, Marinelli had several long interviews with Mussolini at the Chigi Palace; fourth, as soon as he was liberated from prison he was instantly reinstated with his high office by the party and again sat beside Mussolini and Debono in the grand council.

I have before me the verbatim report of his testimony before the Magistrates. Let us see how Marinelli defended himself against the precise evidence of Debono, Finzi and myself.
He began by denying that he was ever familiar with Dumini, and that he "never had intimate relations with Dumini, but merely such as he had with all Fascists."

His Later Testimony.
It was not true that Rossi had ever recommended him to Filippelli or others, he said. To later queries he replied, "Dumini used to go to Viminale (the Ministry of the Interior), but I cannot say with certainty that he used to call at the Press Bureau (my office). He subsequently declared that he learned of Dumini's arrest only through the newspapers and asserted that he had not seen Dumini in the days preceding his own departure.

Later, however, when the magistrates had gathered certain facts he was forced to admit, "Regarding Dumini, I must mention that Dumini was a well-known Fascist and was said to frequent the press bureau, he was often received at party headquarters, where he gave me information of political character. So it is possible that I sent Dumini to Italy on an appointment with the foreigner," but I can't remember accurately." He later had to admit that he had been with Dumini that Thursday.

Similarly, Marinelli first denied all acquaintance with the "foreigner" (a Russian named Thierschwald) but then placed before his eyes the following letter signed by his own hand: "National Fascist party, 'National Headquarters,' Rome, May 31, 1924. 'Dumini, personal and highly confidential. To the Director of Poggio Reale, Naples: 'We have taken the necessary steps at the foreigner's bureau of safety and at police headquarters for the liberation of the Thierschwald, who was arrested at Naples the 6th ultimo. 'I enclose 100 lire, which kindly give to said Thierschwald when freed. 'This individual is one of our secret informers. We desire, therefore, that his liberation should take place in the most normal way possible in order that none may suspect that special considerations have taken part in Thierschwald's liberation.

"Yours, etc. 'For the National Directorate, 'Signed, Giovanni Marinelli. 'P. S.—We beg you to inform Otto that as soon as he returns to Naples, he is to go to the Hotel Dragoni and ask for Signor Bianchi."

It is to be noted that "Bianchi" was none other than Dumini himself, that being one of his aliases. The Hotel Dragoni was the meeting place of the Tcheka.

The enormity of Marinelli's equivocations is further emphasized by the following quotations from the interrogatory before Justices Deligiudici and Tancredi, July 24. On being asked whether, on the night of Thursday, June 12, he had gone with me to see Debono and Finzi and had made certain declarations about the Matteotti crime, he replied: "I do not remember if I went to Viminale with Rossi that particular night. I certainly could not have made any declaration about the crime, because I knew nothing about it."

Persistent in Denial.
Later, when Debono, Finzi and I testified that he had made such declarations in our presence that very night, he again denied remembering it, and even denied remembering attending a meeting of the Fascist grand council held at Venezia Palace, immediately before.

I cite these facts merely to show that Marinelli had received specific instructions from Mussolini that if arrested—and Mussolini never ordered his arrest—he was to maintain silence even in the face of the most incontrovertible proofs, in exchange for the honors and protection promised him. As we have seen, these promises have been kept.

The Government's responsibility for the Matteotti murder has been made even more evident by Dumini's confident behavior at Chieti. It is known that the Government has struck a bargain with Dumini. Although immediately after the crime, Mussolini was prepared to use extreme severity against him—just as he was prepared to sacrifice me—there was a change in attitude later, not for Dumini's sake, but to offset the effects of my accusations.

Dumini's role was to accept responsibility for the initiative in everything, thus freeing Mussolini from responsibility for organizing the Tcheka and inspiring its deeds of violence. Of course, Dumini filled the role of a paid assassin. The Fascist, immediately after the crime, Mussolini considered that he has a sacred right to immunity. He is an infinitely worthier person than those who wrote the lines he now recites. One thing was promised him—freedom.

Possibly more was promised if he can judge from the following letter written to Dumini by his sister and discovered in the lining of an overcoat sent Dumini by his family:

The letter was intercepted in November, 1924. It was undated, but apparently written in September, and was as follows:

"We are glad to know what they have promised you. Let us know what kind of a concession you made so we can compare it with the newspaper version. So far as any releases are concerned, they are all still in jail except Naldi. Vasselli (Dumini's lawyer before Farinacci) tells us all will go well, but it will require some time as some of the magistrates are Free Masons and opposed to the Government and the party. 'Now they are trying to put them out as they have already done in one case. All this takes time. That's why things are so slow, but all will end well. The inquiry will be finished in a few days. How did you manage to impart so many things to Vasselli?"

Angry With Duce.
"Why are you so angry with the Duce?" Write defense of Rossi. If you like and another by Vasselli. Vasselli told us he had made Mussolini realize what a traitor he had been. Debono has already been liquidated. What were pages which concerned Debono? It is not true that Cesarino (Rossi) has talked. Vasselli told me that he wanted to strike a bargain with Mussolini for your future. Do you agree? Is it true that you took all responsibility on yourself?"

"Try not to speak any more but stand pat. Mother says you should make your bargain quick as possible. I will use it as a good sum of money in your name for use when you come out of prison, because your name has been dragged in

ALLEGED REPORT OF HOUGHTON USED AGAINST BRIAND

Denials in Washington Held by French Press to Mean Nothing or to Be Ambiguous.

ENGLAND HELD TO BE INSPIRER OF REPORT

Paris Temps Says Certain British Politicians Are Trying to Embroil France and United States.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News, November 1924.
PARIS, March 22.—State Department denials of the authenticity of the report attributed to Ambassador Houghton, describing Europe as unrepentant, have little success in France.

They have been published scrupulously, but the radical Socialist Quotidian calls them "denials that deny nothing." The more polite Conservative newspapers refer to them as "ambiguous." Whether Houghton made the report, whether it was given out by him, by the State Department, or by the President has become a matter of secondary importance.

The real significance lies in the fact that the enemies of Sir Austen Chamberlain in England have taken advantage of the report. Regardless of its authenticity it is proving a weapon against the channel against Franco-British cooperation in European politics.

Weapon Against Briand.
It, therefore, has proved also an even more powerful weapon in the hands of the enemies here of Premier Briand and the Locarno treaties.

For the first time it has given the French declared something tangible upon which to base an attack on the Locarno agreements. Until now the treaties have been popular with everyone but the diehards—with the radicals and Socialists because they meant pacification and disarmament, and with the average citizen because it meant a military alliance with England for defense of the Rhine. The policy has removed the obsession of fear of Germany which has long affected Frenchmen. It has shown how valuable British support is to France.

Now this support is attacked in England by the opposition to Chamberlain on the basis of the so-called Houghton report. For this, Houghton, or whoever gave the report, is held in France to be indisputably responsible. Two of the most effective agencies for spreading political ideas in France—the Matin and the Temps—go at length into the report. Both declare it a maneuver by the opposition in England to break down Anglo-French cooperation. They also suggest it is a united British and American feat to oblige France to abandon her demand that sea and land disarmament be considered together.

Anti-French Move.
The Temps even considers it a British move to embroil France with the United States. The paper says:

"All the noise made by part of the British press about the report attributed to Mr. Houghton has the character of a broad maneuver to distort the disarmament program even before the preparatory commission meets. 'Attempting to embroil France and the United States, certain English political circles would like to mask the game, which is to prevent normal solution of the peace question, even if it leads them to give a mortal blow to the League of Nations and ruin the policy of Locarno."

The Temps, with others, repeats denials of "the trend of French imperialism." All say the United States and England are spending much more money proportionately on armaments than France. Vasselli (Dumini's lawyer before Farinacci) tells us all will go well, but it will require some time as some of the magistrates are Free Masons and opposed to the Government and the party. 'Now they are trying to put them out as they have already done in one case. All this takes time. That's why things are so slow, but all will end well. The inquiry will be finished in a few days. How did you manage to impart so many things to Vasselli?"

League Hopes to Avoid Question of Modifying Reservations.
By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Switzerland, March 22.—Satisfaction was voiced in League of Nations circles today over dispatches from Washington that the State Department seems convinced the League does not wish to inject itself into the World Court problem, but merely to point out a possible channel for settlement by the members of the Court acting in concert.

A frank discussion of the American reservations. It is believed, may lead to some agreement by the signatories without involving the question of modifying the United States Senate's reservations. Officials reiterated that the League organism ceases to act once the conference invitations have been sent out.

Lloyd George to Offer Motion to Embarrass Chamberlain.

LONDON, March 22.—The Cabinet had before it today the matter of arrangements for the expected debate in the House of Commons tomorrow of the resolution of the League of Nations meeting, which was to have elected Germany to membership in the League.

David Lloyd George is expected to move for a reduction in the Foreign Office appropriation as a means of calling attention to the alleged delinquencies at Geneva of Sir Austen Chamberlain, the Foreign Secretary. This procedure is being used, however, as a means of calling attention to the usual alternative to a direct motion of censure, which, on this occasion, the Opposition has decided not to submit; but on the present question it is regarded as a distinction with a difference, for both opposition parties declare that Sir Austen solely was responsible for the Geneva fiasco, and he doubtless will face indignant opponents when he appears before the Commons.

KOSHER WINE PERMITS DENIED
Andrews Holds That Supply in U. S. Is Sufficient.
WASHINGTON, March 22.—Numerous applications for importation of kosher wine from Palestine were denied today by assistant Secretary Andrews, in charge of prohibition enforcement. He held that the wine supply in this country is sufficient in quantity and quality for sacramental use. The applications were received principally from members of the Orthodox Jewish churches who sought the Palestine wine for use in connection with feast of the Passover, which starts soon. They pleaded that this wine was more sacred.

CLOSE SENATORIAL CONTESTS LIKELY IN FALL ELECTIONS

South Dakota Primary Tuesday Opens Congressional Fights—Illinois Follows on April 13.

34 SEATS INVOLVED IN THE SENATE

G. O. P. Strength to Be Tested in at Least Seven States—Thirty-Three Will Choose Governors.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 22.—The 1926 political campaign, involving the entire membership of the House of Representatives, 34 seats in the Senate and the governorships of 33 states, will formally get under way next Tuesday with the holding in South Dakota of the first of a series of primaries and conventions in the 48 states.

In the South Dakota primary Senator Lester C. Haeckel, Republican, will be opposed for re-election by George Danforth, a lawyer of Sioux Falls, running as an Independent Republican. Candidates for Governor and other State offices also are to be selected.

The next primary will be in Illinois on April 13, where Senator William B. McKinley, Republican, is being opposed by Frank L. Smith, head of the Illinois Commerce Commission. The World Court has been made an outstanding issue in this contest. George E. Brennan, titular leader of the Democracy of Cook County, has announced his candidacy to oppose the winner in the Republican primary.

Butler Seeks Re-election.
Outstanding figures in the Senate whose seats are involved in the coming primaries and the general election on Nov. 2 include William M. Butler of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican National Committee; Charles Curtis of Kansas, the Republican floor leader; Wesley L. Jones of Washington, the Republican whip; James E. Watson of Indiana; George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania; Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, and George H. Moses of New Hampshire.

Only seven Democratic seats in the Senate are involved in the elections, and since they are held by Senators from the South it is conceded that the Republicans have practically no chance of winning a single one of them. On the other hand, 27 Republican seats are in contest with close fights threatened in at least seven—Arizona, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Colorado, Nevada, Maryland and Massachusetts.

Other Senatorial Primaries.
Besides those in South Dakota and Illinois, senatorial primary dates together with the names of the present members are: Indiana, May 4, James E. Watson, Republican, and A. R. Robinson, Republican (appointed to succeed the late Samuel M. Ralston, Democrat).

Pennsylvania, May 18, George Wharton Pepper, Republican.

Oregon, May 21, Robert N. Stanford, Republican.

North Carolina, June 5, Lee S. Overman, Democrat.

Iowa, June 7, Albert B. Cummins, Republican.

Florida, June 8, Duncan U. Fletcher, Democrat.

North Dakota, June 30, Gerald P. Nye, Republican, sitting under temporary appointment to succeed the late Edwin F. Ladd.

Kansas, Aug. 3, Charles Curtis, Republican.

Missouri, Aug. 3, George H. Williams, Republican, sitting under temporary appointment succeeding the late Selden P. Spencer.

Oklahoma, Aug. 3, John W. Harrell, Republican.

Kentucky, Aug. 7, Richard P. Ernst, Republican.

Alabama, Aug. 10, Oscar W. Underwood, Democrat, not a candidate for re-election.

Arkansas, Aug. 10, T. H. Caraway, Democrat.

Ohio, Aug. 10, Frank B. Willis, Republican.

California, Aug. 31, Samuel M. Shortridge, Republican.

South Carolina, Aug. 31, Ellison D. Smith, Democrat.

Nevada, Sept. 7, Tasker L. Oddie, Republican.

New Hampshire, Sept. 7, George H. Moses, Republican.

Wisconsin, Sept. 7, Irvine L. Lenroot, Republican.

Arizona, Sept. 7, Ralph H. Cameron, Republican.

Massachusetts, Sept. 7, William M. Butler, Republican.

Maryland, not earlier than Sept. 8 nor later than Sept. 15, O. E. Weller, Republican.

Colorado, Sept. 14, Rice W. Means, Republican.

The Political Undertow

Italy's Tactics Imperil Debt Terms in Senate

Administration Had Mustered 51 Votes in Support of Settlement When Mussolini's Saber-Rattling and Debacle at Geneva Gave Him the Role of Heavy Villain in American Eyes—Wobblers Still More Wobbly.

By CHARLES MICHELSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
(Copyright 1926.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.
POLITICS ends at the water's edge," said a bygone statesman intent on cajoling his political opponents away from making a fight on some forgotten matter of foreign policy, and pretty nearly every President since has echoed the thought in one form or another.

It is an engaging picture, that of a great nation suppressing its domestic rivalries and always presenting a united front to alien countries, but like all great pictures it represents an ideal rather than a photograph. Politics did not end at tidewater when it was necessary for Republican success to throw down Woodrow Wilson, even though a League of Nations was a Roosevelt dream and its most ardent supporter had been Henry Cabot Lodge.

The sea was not the political frontier when President Harding appointed a board, exclusively Republican, to handle the foreign debt settlements, or when his successor corrected that piece of partisanship, realizing that the settlements had to be confirmed by the Senate.

Amiable Fiction Invoked Again.
President Coolidge has been invoking the amiable fiction on a lot lately, first on behalf of the World Court and more recently in the cause of getting the Italian debt settlement ratified.

It would be fine to cite the patriotism of the Democrats in refusing to let politics enter into their action on those matters, but a voracious historian must record that the high purpose of harmony before the world had very little to do with it. The Democrats voted for the World Court simply because it was part of the policy they espoused when the League of Nations was up.

It was the Republican side of the Senate that had to be clubbed into line. Left to their own devices the majority would have shown more voice against the League of Nations. The thin line of neutrals on that ballots showed nearly ten to one Republicans.

It promises to be much the same when the Italian debt comes to a vote. There will be more cotton than conchiglie in the Senate, and so to the making up of the Democratic mind on this subject. Originally the Senate Democrats were solidly against ratification of the settlement. For one thing, there are few Italians in the South; hence no necessity for playing up to the Italian vote; for another the temptation again to demonstrate the futility of the G. O. P. administration was pretty strong; moreover, the terms of the agreement, amounting to a virtual forgiveness of the principal and acceptance of less than 2 per cent a year in full satisfaction, furnished an excellent excuse for leaving the President and his majority party up in the air.

Ku Kluxers Against It.
Then the Ku Klux Klan was against it, as part of the Klan's "100 per cent American" business, and while the Senators deprecate the Ku Kluxers, they are by no means indifferent to the knightly votes. But presently there began to roll in inquiries from the plantation country about the market for cotton. The Administration—or rather those behind the Administration—had begun to talk in statistics of how much cotton Italy consumed, and what the effect on bale prices would be if that country was rebuffed, and her buying power reduced, as it must be if her credit gets the smash consequent on rejection of her offer. For it must be remembered that the Administration has practically ruled against countries who do not square their accounts with Uncle Sam.

Something of the same propaganda applies to the Western States that produce lead, silver and copper, but that is another tale. The Southern Senators have to offend the Klan, but to offend cotton is such rank political sacrilege as to be unthinkable. Hence, at the nose count the Administration was able to tabulate 51 votes in the Senate for the Italian debt settlement, a safe margin despite the defection of practically all the Western Progressives from the Republican policy.

That comfortable 51 was of yesterday. Today nobody knows whether it will stand up or not. The developments, particularly the success of the cabal that kept Germany from her seat in the Council of the League of Nations, and in fact out of membership in the League which was to have been the most important element in the Locarno love feast, heralded as the greatest step for peace in all history, have gummed the cards.

We are supposed to have no interest in European complications, to be absolutely unconcerned with what the League does or does not do.

Actually All Worked Up.
Actually we are all worked up, officially and unofficially, over the bad deal Germany has been given, and, thanks to Mussolini's recent saber rattling in Germany's face, credit Italy with the part of the heavy villain in the play.

It was Mussolini's efficient if unattractive dictatorship that was responsible for the original coldness toward the Italian debt settlement. His breezy suggestion that there was too much liberty in the world, his suppression of newspapers, his persecution of the Masons and all others who opposed him and his assumption of all the governmental functions, together with flamboyant announcements that Italy meant to put her boundaries wherever she pleased, did not sound good to a country that wants to get its mind off wars and back to business.

The Italian debt settlement on such startlingly low terms was hailed as a Mussolini triumph, and while it may not be logical to smash the settlement on this account, it is very human.

On the matter of votes are still available in the Senate to accept the arrangement made by the Debt Commission, and presumably the 51 will stay hitched. But the European situation has made some of the wobbly ones still more wobbly, and it would not take a great deal more of such talk as has been going around ever since Ambassador Houghton and Minister Gibson reported to the President to upset the apple cart.

Incidentally, Houghton's homecoming brings to mind the story so frequently heard a few months ago that he was scheduled to take Kellogg's place in the Cabinet. He is a very breezy Ambassador with a tongue in his head and with no great reluctance to use it for both plain and fancy speech. He seems to have got along well both in Germany and England, though he gives the impression of being the most undiplomatic of diplomats. When his present chief was in the Senate he was distinguished for his difficulty in making up his mind. In the League of Nations matter, he was somewhat of a Leaguer, sometimes a mild reservationist, and wound up voting with the irresconcilables.

Houghton in Congress at the same time was as successful as he is now. He was a positive manufacturer of facts, and a great deal of his energy was expended in the denunciation of coal companies, distilleries of big insurance companies, and that sort of thing, while Kellogg was a lawyer, which may have something to do with the difference in their manner of thinking and acting, though, of course, under our system an Ambassador does not get much chance to act, while a Secretary of State has his name attached to notes and policies that ring around the world whether he has had a great deal to do with formulating them or not.

Houghton's Chance for Glory.
Well, Houghton is going to have his chance for widespread glory in the preliminary to the Locarno Conference and, presumably at the Arms Conference itself. After that bath in the limelight, being simply an Ambassador will seem pretty tame. Back in Jefferson's day we used to make Presidents of Ambassadors and that went on as late as Van Buren.

It is faintly possible that in the future history of the Corning glass manufacturers we may have another demonstration that politics does not really end at the water's edge.

PAPERS BOOTLEGGED TO ITALY

By the Associated Press.
MONDANE, Italy-French Frontier, March 22.—Lenders running the Canadian border and Atlantic Coast have their counterparts here in bands of Frenchmen and Italians who carry into Italy copies of anti-Fascist newspapers printed abroad and forbidden entrance into Italy. The Corriere degli Italiani, published in Paris, is notable among the bootleg journals.

Many thousands of these newspapers are being taken into Italy and circulated despite the governmental decrees against them. In addition to those carried across the border, many of the clandestine sheets are sent into Italy in sealed wrappers frequently bearing misleading senders' addresses.

These vitamins increase resistance to disease

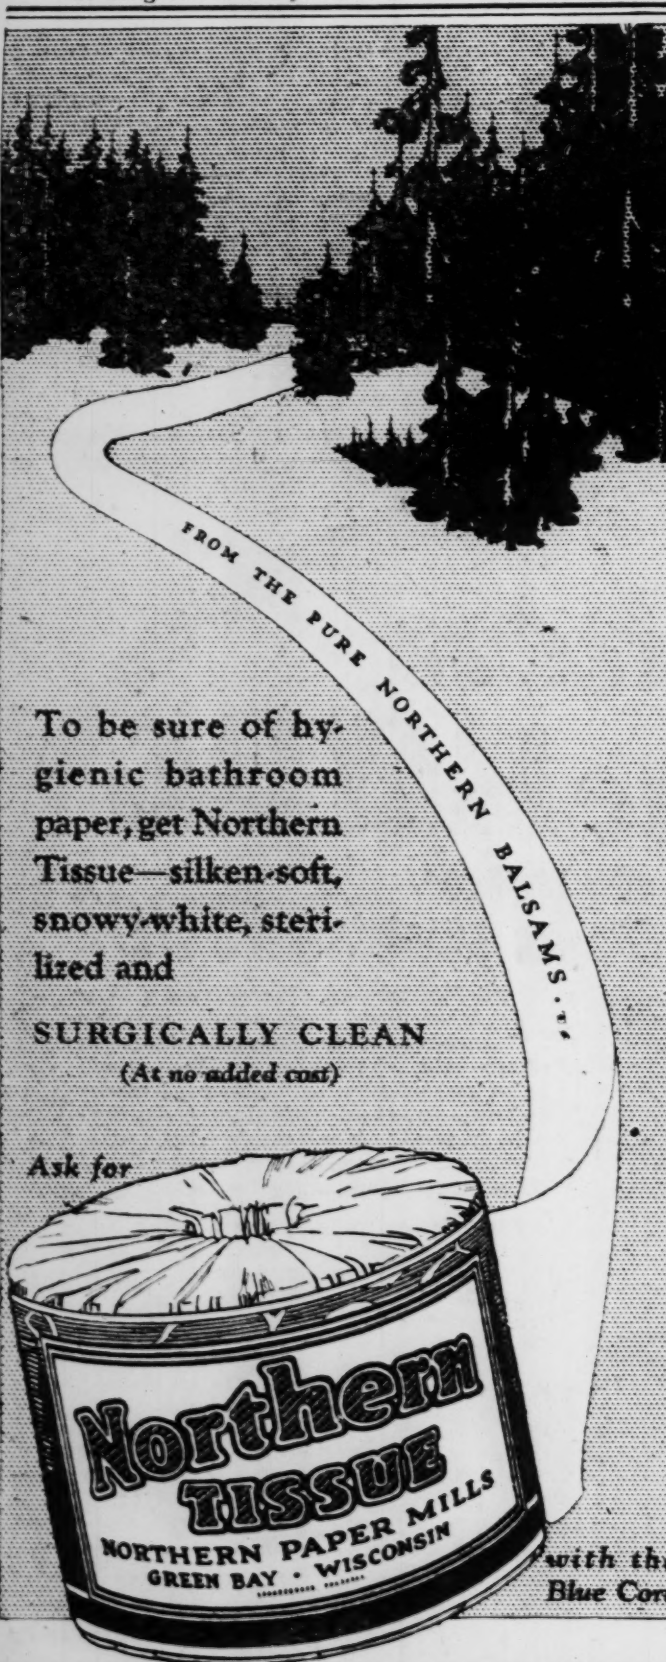

PEOPLE who are trying to throw off a cold, or a cough that hangs on, often take cod-liver oil with the most remarkable results. For good cod-liver oil is the richest known source of the fat soluble vitamins. And scientists have discovered that these vitamins are extremely potent in imparting energy and vigor, in enabling the body to repel germ attacks, to resist disease.

Convalescents, too, travel the road to vigorous health more quickly with the aid of cod-liver oil. Often its effects seem almost magical.

But vitamins of cod-liver oil are, unfortunately, easily lost in the process of preparing, packaging and transporting the oil. Too often oil that was astoundingly rich in these health-giving elements when first taken from its source reaches the consumer with its therapeutic value so greatly reduced as to render it practically valueless.

That is never so with Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil. A special, exclusive process, developed in the Squibb Laboratories, insures that. It insures the retention of vitamins to a greater degree than has ever been possible before.

Every bottle of Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is rigidly tested for its vitamin potency and is prepared, packaged and transported under the protection of this new process which protects against loss of vitamin potency. Incidentally, that process improves the taste, so Squibb's is much more palatable than ordinary cod-liver oil. To be safe, insist upon Squibb's. At drug stores everywhere.

POLICEMAN ACCUSED OF CARELESS DRIVING

Patrolman, Who Arrests Physician After Collision, Cross-Charged by His Prisoner.

Patrolman Thomas Adams, who arrested a physician for careless driving yesterday after their machines had collided in Forest Park, found his own name on the police blotter when the physician had him booked on the same charge after they had arrived at Page Boulevard Station.

Adams' machine and a car driven by Dr. Joseph Backler of 4058 McKee avenue, collided at Government and Franklin drives at noon. Dr. Backler went to the station willingly enough when the policeman announced he was arrested. After they had arrived there, however, the physician laid a cross charge of careless driving. Both were released on their own bonds.

The cars were damaged only $50 each, but Dr. Backler said his mother and sister, passengers in his car, had been slightly injured. Patrolman Adams lives at 3127 Locust street, and is attached to the Traffic Division.

Other Auto Accidents.
Mrs. Rose Venezia, 17 years old, fell to the street from an automobile driven by her husband, Thomas Venezia, of 1534 North Seventeenth street, at Eighteenth and Cass avenue yesterday. She suffered lacerations.

Mrs. Anna Gans, 75, a widow, of 4127 South Compton avenue, suffered fractures of the skull and right leg and internal injuries when she was struck by an automobile at Meramec street and Michigan avenue yesterday. The driver, who said he was Norman Noll, 25, of 4226 Dewey avenue, was arrested.

A young woman who identified herself as Miss Ruth Gibson of 4139 McPherson avenue, at 12:55 a. m. today appealed to Traffic Patrolman Barkley in Forest Park for the arrest of her escort, who, she said, had tried to run her down when she left his machine to walk to a car line. The driver fled as Patrolman Barkley approached. In back of the car museum he crashed into a machine in Government drive, but swung north and escaped.

Fleeing Driver Arrested.
John A. Trimp, 66, a contractor, of 4134 Green Lea place, was arrested at Grand boulevard and Flora place yesterday on complaint of Clarence Bruener of 4118 Brethoven avenue, who said he had pursued Trimp from Utah street and Gravois avenue when Trimp fled after a collision. At City Hospital Trimp was pronounced suffering from alcoholism. He was arrested.

Henry Cottrell, 31, of 4004 North Twenty-third street, lost control of his car at Glasgow and Parnell avenues at 2 a. m. today and it crashed into the plate glass window of a grocery store. He suffered minor cuts.

John Fitzgerald, 62, of 1316 Chouteau avenue, yesterday reported he had fractured three ribs Saturday afternoon when he was knocked down at Sixth and Olive streets by an automobile, the driver of which fled.

"Kisses."

"Signed, Bianca." Whether the money mentioned was ever deposited does not appear, but at least Dumini's freedom was sure. To insure him that freedom, however, the Fascist regime had to mobilize all its forces of magistrature, police, lawyers, witnesses, jurymen and press. The real victims are justice, truth, logic and common sense.

But what a terrible disgrace when the Government of a great country must consider these as its principal enemies!

SPECIAL ELECTION ON SCHOOL TAX RATE TOMORROW

Proposal to Renew for Four Years Present Figure of 85 Cents—All Taxpayers Can Vote.

ACTIVE CAMPAIGN IN BEHALF OF PLAN

Supporters Believe Any Danger of Defeat Lies in Failure to Get Out Vote—Statement Issued.

Polls in 624 precincts will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. tomorrow for a special taxpayers' election on the proposal to renew for four years the tax rate of 85 cents on the $100 valuation for public school purposes.

A majority "yes" vote must be cast to carry the proposition. Otherwise the tax rate will revert to 80 cents on the $100 valuation, which the Board of Education holds would work irreparable damage to the school system.

All taxpayers, who were registered for the mayoralty election last spring, will be permitted to vote, and will not be required to exhibit tax receipts.

The voter's oath that he is a taxpayer unless there is evidence to the contrary, will be accepted by election officials. A taxpayer, according to the law, is a person who pays general real or personal taxes, merchants and manufacturers tax, State income tax, or who shares in the payment of a tax assessed jointly against a partnership or married couple.

Cost to Be $40,000.
The election will cost approximately $40,000, and will involve between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 annual revenue to the schools, which would be lost if the proposition is defeated.

School Board officials and a specially organized Citizens' Campaign Committee have been active for several weeks in the interest of the 85-cent rate, with mass meetings virtually every night at schools and public halls. Speakers provided by the committee have pointed out that failure of the proposition would necessitate abandonment of an $11,500,000 budget for the ensuing year and cessation of all building projects as well as a general reduction in teaching staff, school hours and equipment.

Danger of Apathy.
Their principal argument is that the 85-cent rate is not an increase, a similar proposition having been carried four years ago by an overwhelming vote. Danger of defeat lies in the possible apathy or indifference of voters who approve the project, they have argued.

"The size of the majority which is polled tomorrow will be a measure of the civic pride of St. Louis and the progressive public spirit of its citizens," W. Frank Carter, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, said today. "If the proposition is lost, it will mean a money loss during the four-year period of approximately $1,000,000. The loss of the educational prestige

Vote Tomorrow

Tomorrow (Tuesday) is the day we show our interest in the education of the children of St. Louis by voting to continue the 85-cent school tax rate. The polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. The welfare of the children is in your keeping. Your vote is what counts now. It is up to you to put your vote into the ballot-box.

This is not an increase in taxes. You have been paying the 85-cent school tax for the last four years. But—here's the point: Under a State law we are required to vote each four years to maintain the present level.

Unless a majority of the voters approve the present 85-cent rate the school tax will drop back to the old 60-cent rate, greatly reducing the school revenue. Our schools cannot be efficiently operated on less money.

One hundred thousand children in the St. Louis schools are depending on you to make up your mind right now to go to the polls and vote tomorrow—RAIN OR SHINE. It is important that YOU go to the polls—regardless of weather conditions—and put your vote into the ballot-box.

CITY AND COUNTY MERGER PROPOSAL REVISED SLIGHTLY

Three Changes, None Altering General Purport of Plan, Made Before Submission to Board.

ANNEXATION TALK
 RIFE IN SUBURBS

Joseph McAtee, a Freeholder, Issues Statement to Farmers Appealing for Opposition to Union.

Three changes have been made in the proposal of the city members of the Board of Freeholders for amalgamation of St. Louis and St. Louis County as one municipality since this scheme was made public by the Post-Dispatch on March 10. They do not affect the general purport.

What was section 13 has been eliminated from the plan, which will be presented to the board at its office in the Planters Building tomorrow evening. This section provided that the enlarged city might issue bonds for public improvements "necessary for the creation of urban conditions" in the present county territory.

John P. Collins, a city freeholder and secretary of the board, explained this section was dropped in the belief that existing powers of the city to issue improvement bonds would be sufficient under the enlargement.

The former section 19 has been amended. It would have the Board of Public Service supersede the County Court in relation to the sewerage system. It has been amended to cover joint district sewers, to be sure of covering new districts being organized in the county under the Ralph or so-called Circuit Court sewer law.

Section 6, which would have the enlarged city become liable for all debts of the county and towns within it, has been amended to include obligations of sewer districts. Since the city freeholders' proposal was published it has been a topic of lively discussion in the county, where opinion is sharply divided concerning its adoption or rejection. It cannot be submitted to the vote of the people by the board without the approval of at least one county freeholder, but city members continue confident that they will get such a vote. One county member has indicated the probability of his voting for the plan, if only in the hope of putting it before the people for defeat at the polls.

Offices and halls of the Clayton Courthouse have buzzed with the annexation talk, and statements have begun to appear in the county newspapers. It is realized that the vote of residents of the incorporated suburbs in the county will be sufficient to determine the county's acceptance or rejection of the plan. The discussion in the suburbs revolves about the question of whether St. Louis or the suburbs can furnish the best and cheapest government.

Some residents of Webster Groves believe a bond issue item for a new city hall, in a special election last week, was defeated by a narrow margin, because voters were thinking of the possibility of annexation, which would make the structure unnecessary. An old residence is being used now.

Appeal to Farmers.
 Joseph C. McAtee, a county freeholder, who objects to the city plan, has issued a statement appealing to county farmers. "I am sure there are some who have been deceived in the belief that cost of St. Louis government would be less than our own." In it he said:

"Within the limits of St. Louis city there is still farm land actually used as such. Its total acreage is 1552 and its total assessed valuation is $1,091,271. Some of it is assessed as high as $2500 an acre. The tax rate is $2.57 per $100. This makes a tax rate of $64.25 per acre. Is there a farmer in St. Louis County who can afford to pay a tax of $64.25 an acre on each and every acre of land he owns? I submitted these figures to a county farmer and he said he would immediately sell his farm. "But," I said, "to whom?" It is obvious a buyer could not be found."

The city proposal provides for graduation of the tax rate in the county territory, with the rate for city purposes on farm land not

All foods improve when served in tempting ways. For to tempt the appetite is to start digestion properly.

With all fish and meats and many vegetables, a lemon garnish should be used. That adds tang and zest. Digestive glands are at once excited and their juices flow.

The lemon juice supplies vitamins and organic salts and acids which are direct digestive aids.

An excess of fish and meat forms acid in the blood. Lemon juice, though known as "acid" fruit, has an alkaline reaction to offset "acidity" from other foods.

McAtee's figures, as compiled by the board's statistician, show 134 pieces of property within the city used as farms and truck farms, including five in the name of D. R. Francis. He also gave a compilation of county tax rates, showing them to be lower than the St. Louis rate in most school districts. The assessments there are much lower than in the city, too, he believes.

Other Objections Made.

"Do we want to make the trade?" McAtee asked. "Record me in the negative. If the city wants to come back in the county and help maintain the roads that are more frequently used by its citizens than by county citizens, I would be less hostile to its designs. Unfortunately, the constitutional amendment under which we are functioning does not provide for an alternative submission of separate plans, and for this reason the people who have devoted the best years of their life are to be foreclosed from exercising an option on this plan, if the city plan, assisted by a county freeholder, is to prevail."

In a letter to a Clayton paper, George W. Baumhoff, former president of the County Taxpayers' League, declared:

"In my opinion, the same sentiment prevails in the minds of a majority of our citizens as that which brought about separation in 1876, namely, great dissatisfaction and pronounced disapproval of the political machine, administrative body and law enforcement officers, and it would be disastrous to permit the plan to be presented to the electorate in the county, for there is a decided sentiment on the part of our urban citizens, shared to a great extent by our suburban citizens, to vote for any proposition that will result in annexation."

Baumhoff took exception to the city proposal because it does not provide for Aldermen, including the six additional ones who would represent the present county territory, to be elected by wards instead of at large. Under the present system representation of a minority party in the Board of Aldermen is virtually impossible. Annexation of the county would strengthen the city's Republican majority, he said. The State Constitution requires "at least one house" of the St. Louis legislative body to be elected at large. Since there is only one house, a constitutional amendment would be required to meet this objection.

Question of Assessment.

He also objected because "the scheme is silent as to the county having representation in the Board of Education." If the county were added to the city, board members would be elected from the whole community. He declared that while the tax rate on farms would be cut in half, their assessment might be raised "commensurate with fictitious benefits."

Further, Baumhoff questioned whether the State Highway Commission would continue to maintain the four State highways now in the county, after annexation, and whether the proposal might jeopardize the construction of a belt route connecting those four highways under a $900,000 refund due to the county from the State.

At Jefferson City the Post-Dispatch was told no similar questions ever had come before the commission. However, the commission is empowered to construct roads within municipalities and maintain them as long as the municipalities do not enact rules in conflict with State regulations as to speed, traffic, loads, etc. State highways run within Kansas City. As to the refund road, it was stated authoritatively that the commission intended to build it without regard to annexation, since, if the city annexed the county, it would assume assets as well as liabilities.

RELATIVES OF TEXAS WOMAN VISITING HERE SOUGHT

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Reed, 64, of El Paso Found Wandering on Bridge.

City Hospital authorities are attempting to locate relatives of an elderly woman of apparent refinement, who was found wandering on the western approach to Eads Bridge last night.

The woman was taken under protection by a policeman who had observed her walking on the bridge on several nights last week. She was placed under observation at City Hospital, where she told physicians she is Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Reed, 64 years old, of El Paso, Tex., widow of C. E. Reed, a former St. Louisan. She said she came to St. Louis two weeks ago to visit friends and had been stopping at the Princess Hotel Eighteenth and Market streets. Checks in her purse showed that she had left baggage at both Union and McKinley stations. Several articles of inexpensive jewelry and 12 cents in cash constituted the remainder of her possessions.

Mrs. Reed explained today that she went to the bridge to view the river and obtain fresh air.

One week's washing—FREE

An offer to families who think they cannot afford an Easy

WOULD life be more pleasant if you had an Easy Washer to take the drudgery out of washday? Then listen, for here is good news.

You can afford an Easy Washer now, without waiting a day longer. We will prove it by putting an Easy Washer in your home, letting you do your whole week's wash, and then you can decide for yourself.

Simple in operation

The Easy is the simplest thing in the world to operate. Press a button and the washing commences. Move a lever and the wringing is done for you. There are no exposed parts; no noise or vibration. The big, solid copper tub of the Easy is no trouble at all to keep clean and sanitary, and it is so handsome it looks well in the finest kitchen or basement laundry.

Lasts for years

Every part of the Easy is made of the same fine material and with the same fine care and precision that go into the making of the best automobiles.

That is why the Easy lasts for years and years. Ten single sheets the Easy's tub holds, and a tub takes only a few minutes to wash. A special feature of the Easy is a simple and convenient gas heater beneath the tub that keeps the water at a constant temperature.

Don't delay a minute. Write us at once for an appointment to demonstrate, or phone any Easy dealer.

You know how a teacup pushed down into water forces air into that water. Raise the cup and the suction causes both air and water to follow. The same principle is used in the Easy Washer. Like human hands the Vacuum Cups press down, flushing air, soap and water through the clothes and back again. This happens 60 times a minute—without wear on the clothes, but overlastingly taking the dirt out of them.

Hornsby Orders More Batting Practice When Team Is Held to 4 Hits

Showing of Right-Hand Pitchers, Potential Aces of Mound
Staff, Boosts Pennant Hopes of Cardinals—Warwick Starts Brilliant Double Play in Ninth Inning.

By William J. McGoogan.

OF THE POST-DISPATCH STAFF.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 22.—Batting practice is going to take up a large portion of the Cardinals' time from now on. That the team is badly in need of such work was strongly demonstrated yesterday in the game with San Antonio which Hornsby's men won 1 to 0, despite the fact that they were able to get but four hits. It was only through an error that they were able to score the one run.

Not only were the safeties scarce, but the Cardinals had trouble in getting the ball hard enough to hit out of the infield. The San Antonio pitchers had seven assists and the Bear outfielders had only one put-out. The San Antonio infielders had eight assists, two of Hornsby's batters were retired on fly to the infield and another was weakly to the catcher.
Even Hornsby was helpless at bat. Up four times, he failed to get a safety. He grounded to the second baseman once, rolled to the shortstop another time, then tied to the center fielder, and his final attempt resulted in a pop fly to the first baseman.

Pennant Hopes Go Up.
But if the hitting was bad, the pitching of Phil Rhee and Victor Keen, right-handers, was high class as to bring joy to the team's leaders. Much depends on the two men this year, and as far both have shown that they have the ability to win. Between the two yesterday they allowed only six hits, no runs, gave four bases on balls and struck out four.
Rhee hurled the first four innings, gave four hits, fanned three batters and walked one. His curve ball appeared to be breaking about the middle of the game, cutting the heart of the order or dropping over the outside corner. His fast one was fast and he managed to slip through a slow
now and then for the sake of variety.

In the pinchers Rhee bore down and the San Antonio batters couldn't see him. So effective was his fast ball, led off the first inning, he failed to get a hit.
Gavin, the next batter, led to Douthett behind second base and Rhee got the next two on grounders to the box.

Rhee Hit Last Year.
Rhee, it will be remembered,
was the sensation of the Cardinals training camp last year, and he started the regular season with a good string of victories. Then he blew like a toy balloon and was little good after the middle of the season. His failure was due to illness. He reported to camp this year in fine condition and announced that he was going to stay in trim in order to give his best efforts. Manager Hornsby is elated over the big fellow's showing so far.
Keen came South with the Cardinals with a big question mark after his name. He came to the camp from Chicago in a trade for Tom Conney, shortstop. Last year
Keen did not have a good year, which was attributed to a sore arm and there were many skeptical as to his ability to get in form.
But Bill Killefer, battery coach,
was a strong believer in Keen.
He had Vic in charge when he managed the Cubs and stated
when he came to the Cardinals that he would stake his reputation on Keen.

Killefer Not Surprised.
So far Killefer's confidence has been justified. Each time Keen has pitched he has done well.
Not only has his pitching been nature, but his spirit indicates he is always trying to win. Even in exhibition games he puts everything he has into his work. And up to date he has not complained of a sore arm. He says this is the

By John E. Wray,
Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla., March 22.—Somebody said that figures do not lie, whereupon Mr. Ananias, president of the club having the world's largest membership promptly hurt his sore lip laughing. He knew about spring training camp baseball figures.

Ananias who keeps track of all which they will stabilize. On the other hand, Jacobson, McManus and Robertson may be expected to show great improvement over their present figures. Gerber and Dixon will also go better. Rice has not looked good until the last few days and his return to form is one of the pleasing features of the week's batting.

The Case of Melillo.
Most interesting of all the possibilities brought up by the figures is the case of Melillo. He makes good permanently at bat nothing can keep him out of the regular line up, for he is a real baseball player of the right type.
Melillo hitting over 300 complicates the club arrangements. It brings up the problem of what to do with McManus and Robertson.
The club needs right-hand hitters.
McManus and Melillo will, therefore, get the preference over Robertson, everything else being equal. That means putting either McManus or Melillo into a position
—third base—with which neither is any too familiar. McManus is being experimented with there now.
What the outcome will be is just a hazard.

Clard Likely to Be Acc.
And that brings us to the still more important subject of the pitching figures. These give us real valuable information, some of which is probably true. We gather from the statistics that as far as he has gone, Joe Clard is going to lead the procession of winning hurlers. That, in fact, is not only the story of the few figures available to date but is the tale today by the wise crackers of the club's roster. Clard is expected to win 20 games this year. Thus far he has pitched three innings, which makes the above deduction seem like building a Woolworth tower on a two-by-four foundation.

Tom Zachary and Ballou are the really outstanding performers of the staff to date, and we believe that their figures at least do not lie. It is almost sure, even now, that the two men Washington
turned over to us for Joe Bush and Johnnie Tobin will each win as
many games for Sisler as Joe Bush won for the Browns—14—and perhaps more.

If the Browns hit as well as last season, Zachary should win not fewer than 16 games. Ballou is more of a guess. But if he can do his stuff for nine innings as he has thus far done for four, watch
the Browns' smoke this summer.

Don't Forget Gaston.
Then there is Milton Gaston. He won 15 games last year. That means more this year as the figures indicate he is in prime shape,
but not quite ready to bear down fully. He, with Gard, will be sent against the Giants at Sarasota tomorrow for what may prove a better test than he thus far has had.

The figures tell the truth about Clard Jonard, the man with a single orb. Here is one pitcher who is sure to be a great relief man and perhaps a nine-inning hurler. Not only are his figures good now, they should be better later because he is mastering a change of pace very rapidly.
Equipped with this he will be 25 per cent better, Coach Ray Cahill thinks.

The figures are lukewarm about some of the pitchers who ought to do better later, notably Wingard, Frank Davis and Robertson. And,
of course, the evidence as to
that the two men Washington
turned over to us for Joe Bush and Johnnie Tobin will each win as
many games for Sisler as Joe Bush
won for the Browns—14—and perhaps more.

At this writing it appears that some of the pitchers about the team are being cleared up. It is an assured thing that if the pitchers of last year duplicate their performance of the season the newcomers to the staff will account for at least ten more wins than Joe Bush won. And that would mean a pennant for St. Louis.

Perhaps Ananias will presume to say these figures lie, too.

DEMPSEY HAS AGREED TENTATIVELY TO MEET TUNNEY, RICKARD SAYS

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 22.—Tex Richard, New York boxing promoter, was here yesterday on a business mission but beyond admitting that fact, was noncommittal. He conceded some definite plans were on foot
but said he could not divulge them before a week or 10 days. The promoter denied that he came to Chicago for a conference with Jack Dempsey, but announced that he had received a wire from the heavyweight champion in California, tentatively agreeing to a match with Gene Tunney in New York during August. No contracts have been signed, Rickard said.
Of the reports that Dempsey and Harry Wills will battle for the heavyweight title here on Labor day, Tex expressed a hope that the match "will be held as far away from Chicago as possible."

POLICE LAY SEVEN MURDERS TO $300,000 ROBBERY GANG

New York Authorities Undecided About Allowing Maryland to Extradite R. R. Whittemore.
NEW YORK, March 22.—A safe deposit box, which police think holds a part of the $200,000 worth of loot of numerous crimes in four cities alleged to have been committed by a gang led by Richard Reese Whittemore, escaped convict, was sought today. Police also are trying to link the gang with seven murders committed in a little more than a year in Baltimore, Buffalo, New York City and New Jersey.
As the result of evidence already in hand against the seven men under arrest here, State officials were undecided whether to permit the extradition of Whittemore to Baltimore for trial for the admitted killing of a Maryland penitentiary guard during his escape last year or to attempt to convict him and others of the gang for killing two guards in a $24,000 holdup in Buffalo last October.
Among the murders laid to the gang are those of two former members of the gang—Simon L. Gilden, whose body was found in Trinity churchyard in December; "Chicago Tommy" Langrella, found dead in New Jersey. The seventh supposed victim is former Police Captain Henry Helwig, who disappeared after a band recently held up two jewelers on Fifth avenue and escaped with $150,000 of unset diamonds. Helwig, then employed as a private detective, fired on the robbers, who are believed to have killed him.
Nurse to Tour Europe.
Mrs. Louise J. Stiller, head nurse at the Deaconess Hospital, East St. Louis, will depart next month for a tour of Europe, in the course of which she will call on her parents in Austria, whom she has not visited for 21 years. Also, she will take post-graduate work at Deaconess Hospital at Bielefeld, Germany.

'MOTHER OF TEXAS,' RESCUED AS CHILD FROM INDIANS, DIES

AT CUSTIN, Tex., March 22.—Mrs. Rebecca Jane Gilleland Fisher, known as "The Mother of Texas," because of her long life and service in this State, died here at the age of 94.
Born in Philadelphia in 1831, she came to Texas with her parents to be later picked up and revived by rescuers.
Mrs. Fisher was a charter member of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas. Two years ago she was elected president of the organization for the thirtieth time. She was the only woman ever elected to membership in the Texas Veterans' Association and was its last member. Her portrait was the first of a woman to be hung in the Texas Senate Chamber.

obtaining a divorce. Lucas married Miss Peacock three days after he had engaged her as a stenographer to take dictation on a story which he said he was writing.

WOMAN EX-DRY AGENT AND RAIDER SHOOT HERSELF
Mrs. Daisy Simpson, Rebuked in Court for Enforcement Methods, Arrested on Narcotic Charge

By the Associated Press.
EL PASO, Tex., March 22.—Mrs. Daisy Simpson, woman prohibition agent of San Francisco and Chicago, is in a critical condition in a hospital here, following an attempt to commit suicide in the El Paso County Jail, where she was being held on a narcotic charge.

Overcome by the shame of jail confinement, she shot herself late Saturday night, after appeal to her former associates failed to obtain her release on bond.

Smuggled Pistol.
Author of many a ruse in her law enforcement activities, she resorted to a ruse in the attempt upon her life. She smuggled the pistol into the jail in a bundle of clothing, after she had deceived United States Marshal Scott White into believing she had left the weapon in her trunk at a hotel where he supervised her clothes packing.

At the time of her arrest Saturday, she gave her name as Mrs. B. B. Moore of Los Angeles. She was not identified as Daisy Simpson until yesterday. An automobile which was seized at the time of her arrest was claimed yesterday by Julius Duval, who gave his address as San Francisco. He said he had loaned the car to her.

A note addressed to Bert Sinkens of San Francisco as "the only one I depended upon," indicated that she planned to take her life. The note, scribbled on a telegraph blank, read:

"I can't stand jail. The shame has broken my heart. Dearest, if you don't want me, the only one I depended upon, I am ready to die. They don't know my name."

Although she had held law enforcement assignments in various parts of the country, she attracted chief attention as dry agent at San Francisco. She frequently set traps to catch liquor law violators and led several spectacular raids. She resigned her commission last November.

Shot Herself in Back.
She was arrested here after she had received a package through the mails which, upon investigation of officers who had had her under surveillance, was found to contain narcotics.

She was positively identified as Daisy Simpson by Scott White, United States Marshal. She is said to have admitted her identity to one of the nurses at the hospital.

After shooting herself she was rushed to the hospital where she underwent an operation and the bullet was removed. The bullet had lodged near the spine in her back.

Rebuked in Court for Her Methods as Agent.
By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Mrs. Daisy Simpson received a reprimand in Federal Court here for her alleged unethical methods in making arrests for violation of the Volstead law. She was charged with setting traps to entice hotel employees into obtaining liquor for her and then arresting them. She also led several spectacular raids here.

Bo McMillan's Wife Dies.

CHAPTER XXVIII DREAMS.

CAROLITA stretched herself, vaguely conscious that it was time to wake up. Through half-opened lids she could see that it was morning, but the daylight was hazy—dim—like a fog at sea. Where was she? Feebly her mind groped for memories of the night before, the place in which she had gone to bed, but she was unable to remember anything beyond the present. Another dream was it? With a deep sigh she drifted again into sleep.

Someone was calling. The words were familiar. Where had she heard them before? What a queer bed! The mattress seemed to be stuck right into her flesh! It was certainly morning, though still foggy. She had tried to shake off her drowsiness. There was no use of sleeping any longer, it was making her stupid. Her body felt heavy, a dead weight which she could hardly move. It required the greatest effort to lift her arm and reach out—the fog was so thick that one must feel about for one's bearings!

A bottle—something round—! She raised the latter carefully and brought it within her vision. It was bright, rough—orange! Somebody had brought her breakfast to the bedside.

The room looked very strange. To begin with, it was narrow and low and the bed seemed to be made up on the floor. Then the ceiling was so near her head! What had become of her pillow? This funny prickly mattress made her head throb!

The bottle and the orange were on the floor, too, and some cake. One might as well eat, though it was unusual food for breakfast.

Carolita nibbled at the cake it was quite nice. It made her feel better. Presently she saw that a knife lay beside the orange, a funny looking thing, but serviceable. She cut into the orange—the knife was a clumsy thing, and tried to suck the juice, and again she became conscious of someone calling—something very familiar, responded to by a faint hum of many voices.

Surely she was listening to the mass! How queer! Had she walked in her sleep and wandered into some corner of the convent chapel, previously unexplored. "Blessed be he who tried to call aloud, but the only sound she made was a faint whisper. She had lost her voice, too! Oh, well, she sank back upon the bed, it didn't matter anyway. One couldn't call out during mass, and they soon miss her from her room and come after her. Meantime it was good to rest her aching head. When she again became conscious she was convinced that it was another day.

"I must have been here for hours and hours," was her horrified thought as her eyes again took in her surroundings, and she remembered her previous awakening. The food was still beside her, and before her eyes at the other end of this queer place stood a board, bearing this word in heavy black letters:

MISSONSPKISSMAFFECOME-TAKEMISSOONHOM.

Carolita read the sign over and over again until she had managed to separate the words as their full significance had penetrated her still clouded mind.

MISS NO SPEAK. MISS SAFE. MISS WAIT. I COME TAKE MISS SOON HOME.

An oppressive stillness surrounded her. The mass must have been part of her dream, she reasoned, as memory began to return. Slowly her mind cleared. She remembered that she had gone to bed in a strange house in a strange land, among strange people. She saw that she had been removed from that house, during the night, and that she lay now upon a pile of straw in a room so small and low that she could not stand upright. The walls were made of grating through which light entered. It was a prison cell!

She clapped her hand over her mouth to keep from screaming, a cold perspiration breaking out all over her. The worst had happened! Once more she was stranded in a cruel world, hopelessly lost!

Her clothes were gone, too. She wore the funny-looking night dress the old hag had given her, and was covered by a thick, red blanket. Her feet were bare.

Sobs shook her frame, and were strangled in her throat. The sound of heavy footsteps. Someone was walking toward her. She gripped the straw in an agony of suspense.

The footsteps drew nearer and nearer, paused nearby, another heavier sound, the faint rattle of a chain, then silence. Five minutes, perhaps, then another muffled sound, and the footsteps sounded again, receding. Silence. Carolita sat up, cautiously, and studied the queer words upon the board. They were scrawled in odd printed letters, such as a child might write. English words, yet the construction was foreign. The message could not have come from either of the Milanos, or from Gaines. No, she was torn from even such friends as these,

and as for Paul—alas, he could never find her now.

The thought made her faint. How presumptuous she had been. How dared she imagine that she would try to find a girl who had run away from him, leaving such an ambiguous note? Appearances had been steadily against her from the beginning of their acquaintance. His credulity and trust had been strained to the breaking point, again and again. No man would go further in quest of a girl who perpetrated such melodramatic climax!

No, Paul was safely with his stepmother in Santa Barbara. She would never see him again. Tears welled up and poured down her cheeks. She was lost and in prison, without friends, stranded upon the face of the earth. Footsteps once more, a man walking about, very near! More footsteps, a number of people this time, and a faint odor—clinging, familiar—like incense.

"I'm ill, delirious!" the girl told herself, "none of this is real!"

Yet a strong intuition kept her from crying out. She tried to calm herself with prayer, but her mind wandered. Presently notes of music reached her—muffled sounds from a wheezy old melodeon, but this time there was no mistaking their meaning, a church service was about to take place.

Yes! The voice belonged to a priest, chanting! Vespers! A church! A great tide of thankfulness overwhelmed the girl. A church! Not a prison! No harm could come to one in a holy place! She began to picture her surroundings, imagining a wayside chapel, such as she had seen beside the road during her wild automobile trip, and being a South American it did not occur to her that there was anything strange about such a place, one was accustomed to churches.

Once again she reviewed her situation and found it much less appalling. She must be directly under the altar. In a safe place. She had fruit, cake and wine. One could live a long time on such nourishment! It was comforting to hear the music, crude as it was. She had upon the straw, infinitely relieved.

The vesper service drew to a close, the church was empty once more. Dusk began to fall, and now the thought of a long night alone in the church brought a fresh qualm. How long would this imprisonment last?

It occurred to her that it might be well to find out all that was possible before darkness overtook her, and move cautiously she explored her small quarters, finding a small door in the grating walls. It was locked.

The ceiling next claimed her attention. Solid boards. The floor? Carefully she swept aside the straw, going over the stone floor, inch by inch. Stone, immediately beneath her. More stone, then wood! Her heart thumped as she cleared a larger space and found a door, tightly closed!

What lay beneath? Dare she look?

She debated the question so long that darkness overtook her, and with a sense of relief she returned to her bed at the other end of her hiding place and lay down once more. She would pray and sleep and morning would come!

Black night. Mice running about, and spite of all the courage she could muster, terror deepened in her heart. Thoughts of Paul, the dear old convent where she had been at peace, the future mingled with the fearful awe of her present position. Hours must have passed and still the darkness did not lift. Then a queer, grating sound beneath—a slight creaking. The trap door was being raised!

Carolita gave up all hope, only praying that death might come quickly. She could hear some one scuffling through the darkness, a whisper reached her:

"Missy! No scream! I no hurt! I make you safe!"

Strong arms lifted her, and so, paralyzed by a fright that admitted of no sound or resistance, she felt herself being carried through the trap in the floor, down some stairs, and deposited upon the ground in the darkness. A moment she was released, while her captor closed the trap above him. Then once more she was being carried, dragged along a low passage, while the man made her lie in low rapid tones, foreign tones:

"Missy, no frighten, no hurt, muchly safe at home soon, no speak!"

No need to warn her into silence! She could not have spoken then! No, not to save her immortal soul. The passage through which she was being dragged was long and damp. The blanket in which she was rolled grew wet and uncomfortable, and the air was very hot. She felt as if she were being carried in the crater of a volcano, yet she could not have made a move to help herself. By the time the end of the tunnel was reached she was mercifully beyond fear. Nature had come to her rescue, enclosing her in a blessed oblivion.

When Carolita regained consciousness she was huddled into the back seat of an automobile, and dashed through the night, and it took some minutes for her to find herself, and recall the thrilling circumstances from which she had so recently emerged. Except for the driver she was the sole occupant of the car, a closely curtained touring model, making tremendous speed.

"On my way to nowhere again," was her dreary, hopeless reaction, "soon I'll come to the end of the world and have to jump off. Nobody will miss me!" Bitterness overcame her.

The driver of the car was silent, never turning his head in her direction. He was a small man, undoubtedly the one who had dragged her from the church. Why hadn't she called out to the priest to come to her rescue? Had she been hypnotized during those hours under the altar?

"Who are you? Where are you taking me?" she called to her captor at last, desperate with suspense and fatigue, "if you don't tell me I'll throw myself out of the car! You can't stop me!"

The driver did not turn his head, but his answer came promptly. "I Japan boy for Missy's friends. Tell Missy, always no hurt, soon back home now. Muchly lovely, no trouble, Missy sleep, yes?"

"But how can I know!" the girl replied desperately, "are you the one who took me from the church?"

"Japan boy take Missy all places, all safe, nobody hurt! Missy find nice wine in bottle on floor, some bread, maybe eat some little? Feel better soon?"

Carolita began to be somewhat reassured. The man did not appear to wish to harm her. He was respectful and kind. The thought of food brought diversion, and she availed herself of his offer, and felt refreshed and strengthened, while the car dashed faster and faster, the north star shining overhead.

SECRETS OF HEALTH AND SUCCESS BY CHARLES A. L. REED, M.D. FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

EVEN you who either escaped or survived the great influenza epidemic may not appreciate the deep significance of that national show that the first estimates of the fatalities in the epidemic of 1918 were too low; there were probably 20,000,000 deaths in the whole population of the world and the catastrophe was probably the worst there has been since the Black Death.

Neither Asiatic cholera nor bubonic plague has anything like this mortality.

It is fairly certain that we shall some day be visited again by the destructive infection, and we will be little, if at all, better equipped to deal with it tomorrow than we were seven years ago.

The attack rate is highest, between 5 and 9 years, and declines with almost unbroken regularity in each succeeding age group. Females are more liable than males and colored people are less susceptible than whites.

The mortality in 1918 was relatively greater in the 20 to 40 year group than it was in 1889-90. Since death in influenza is generally due to secondary invaders, any factor that influences the activity of these invaders for particular age groups will affect the age distribution of mortality.

It has been suggested that the relatively higher mortality in early life and in persons of advanced years that was shown in 1889-90 was due in part to the fact that the disease broke out in midwinter, when such people are particularly vulnerable by pneumonic infections.

In the early autumn of 1918 these people were not so susceptible. Opinions are divided on whether the 1918 pandemic was a new disease or the recrudescence of an old one, but even if the influenza of 1918 was not a new disease it was greeted like one and behaved like one.

Although there may be some immunity for a short time after recovery, it has been proved not to last more than 16 months. An attack certainly gives no such protection as does an attack of scarlet fever, measles or smallpox.

It is probable that the disease is spread mainly by human contact in its early stages, perhaps even before symptoms are manifested. Mouth spray and finger-to-mouth infection appear the most likely means of transmission.

Vaccination against the secondary invaders might be of value if the variety of them were not so great, but the practical difficulties of efficient vaccination on a world-wide scale make it impracticable as the basis of a protective campaign.

Face masks are efficient under special but limited conditions and the most useful methods of protection are certain forms of quarantine and isolation, which, however, are difficult to apply.

Minimizing of contact is the only chance we have of controlling the ravages of influenza, with precautions against secondary infection.

Three women have been appointed deacons of the St. Giles' Congregational Church in Chalfont, England, it being the first time in the history of the church that women have been granted this privilege.

MEDITATIONS OF A MARRIED WOMAN

By HELEN ROWLAND

Man's Red-Flannel Conscience.

PINK, according to a Psychic Expert, is the color of sin! Now, we know why rouged cheeks are always being cried down by the reformers, and why pink cheeks, even when painted by the hand of nature, always make a man suspicious.

Men have always been afflicted with the "pink eye" and a red-flannel conscience—as far as woman is concerned!

Pink is the insignia of all the feminine vices and frailties, in a man's subconscious mind.

The adventures in the sex-play always does her vamping or her murdering in a pink satin bodior or a rose-colored drawing-room. She would be lost without them!

You never heard of a man being "lured to destruction" in a delft blue kitchen or a burnt-orange sitting room. Any actress who attempted to ensnare the hero in a nile-green negligee would lose him in the first act!

But give her a pink-shaded lamp, a few pink satin cushions to throw around, and a bunch of pink roses on the table, and she need not utter a word. You KNOW she's fascinating—and dangerous!

Black lingerie may be the newest thing, and a purple tea gown may be the smartest—but it is the pink things on the clothesline that cause the neighbors to peep out of the window.

A pink scented note or a pink satin slipper is all that a French novelist needs with which to start a wicked train of thought. And a pink silk stocking has been the whole plot of many a French farce.

Pink lights in a restaurant always look alluring and sinful, somehow. And, the first thing a man is supposed to see, after a wild night, is a pink rabbit.

Some unfortunate men may have been born on Black Friday or Blue Monday—but all the wicked and dangerous women MUST have been born on a PINK TUESDAY!

Just what men find wicked about pink, no woman knows—but, somehow, man has never been able to reconcile his red-flannel conscience with woman's pink chiffon soul!

Pink is to a man what scarlet is to a bull. It makes him wild! (Copyright, 1926.)

CHILD MANAGEMENT

By Dr. D. A. Thom

Only by studying the motives of the child who misbehaves can we understand and intelligently treat the individual. Many children, for instance, steal as a means to a given end. Find out the end and treatment will suggest itself. A boy of 8 years, from an excellent family of culture and education, suddenly began to steal money from other members of the family, using it to purchase candy and other delicacies which he distributed among his boy companions. In this particular case, the boy's intellectual, social, and athletic activities were very much overshadowed by those of a superior and rather arrogant brother, who was constantly humiliating him. In athletics especially the boy was not so efficient as most boys of his age, and for this reason he was cut off, more or less, from his companions. He did find, however, that his popularity could be established in a measure at least, by supplying the boys with gum and candy and treating them generously. In order to do this he resorted to thefts.

A temporary separation of the boy from his older brother by a summer at camp, explaining the underlying motives for his difficulty and laying special stress on the development of his physical life, proved to be a satisfactory solution of the problem.

Another case of this kind was that of a rather undernourished, poorly developed, anemic-looking lad of 7 years of age, with a rather superior intellectual equipment, who about a year ago committed his first, and what fortunately proved to be his only, theft. It so happened that his mother, a hard-working, conscientious woman whose husband had died a few years previously, was making

The guns are only painted;
The Red Cross man,
When battle ran,
Fell off his truck and fainted.
The Indians came,
It was a shame
They came in rainy weather.
Out in the sun
They would have won,
But they were glued together.
They came apart;
It broke my heart
To see such gallant men.
I bought some paste
In tearful haste
And patched them up again.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Home-Made Bags.
Newspapers stitched together can be made into fine moth-proof bags, as moths are not fond of newspapers. These would be found very economical when packing away winter coats, etc.

Concerning Salad.
Salads should never stand long after preparing them. If they must be arranged a bit in advance, put the plates right back in the refrigerator until meal time. There is nothing so uninteresting as a warm, wilted salad.

New Curtains.
When washing your new curtains this spring first soak them overnight in salted water. As a rule new curtains are full of lime and it is very hard to get them clean without using an immense amount of soap powder. After their salt bath you will find them much easier to handle.

A Rat Chaser.
Chloride of lime will keep the rats out of the cellar. Sprinkle it liberally all over the cellar floor or places you suspect as their haunts.

To Look Younger

follow this simple rule in skin care

By NORMA TALMADGE

preserving youthful skin, it is making thousands of women younger than their years.

WELL-KNOWN artist recently asked, "What's become of the middle-aged woman; has she completely disappeared?"
What's really happened is this: women have found that looking their age is a needless folly. Thus nearly everyone stays young these days.
The simple rule below has safe, natural complexion charm for women more than any other method known. Thousands employ leading skin specialists urge it. It is for one week. Let it prove its effects to you. The softening and palm lather of Palmolive soap is the key.

THE RULE—MAKE IT YOURS STARTING TODAY

Wash your face gently with soapy Palmolive Soap, massaging it gently into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to dry, apply a touch of good cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder sparingly, if you wish. But never use them on your eyes. They clog pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away. Follow these rules day in and day out. Your skin will be soft and naturally colorful and clear.

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.
Remember that before Palmolive came, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." Soaps then were judged too harsh. Palmolive is a beauty soap made for one purpose only: to safeguard your complexion. 60 years of soap study stand behind it. Millions of pretty skins prove its effectiveness beyond all doubt.
BE SURE YOU GET THE REAL PALMOLIVE
It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Note what one week of its use brings you. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Ill. 60614.

The Mean Trick of Reddy Fox

There are some folk we all have seen
Who think it clever to be mean.

—Peter Rabbit.

For a moment Bowser just stood there, staring at Reddy Fox.

PEOPLE of that kind are the ones who always are trying to play mean tricks on others, and who, when they succeed, appear to think these tricks very smart. No sir, it never is smart to be mean. Just take the case of Reddy Fox and the trick he played on the stranger in the Green Forest.

Reddy Fox, of course, had heard of the stranger in the Green Forest, and that this stranger was a cousin of his. News like that would be sure to reach Reddy very quickly. In fact, several of his neighbors had asked Reddy if it was true that this stranger was a cousin of his. Reddy was quite sure that he had no cousins excepting in the Far North. But not having seen the stranger, he didn't dare say so. Reddy long since learned that it is never safe to be too positive.

Of course, he promptly began spending most of his time in the Green Forest hunting for the stranger. He didn't find him, but he did find his footprints in some soft earth, and he found the scent of the stranger. The footprints were very like the footprints of a Fox, and the scent the stranger had left in those footprints certainly was the scent of a Fox. Reddy became more curious than ever. At the same time, he didn't at all like the idea of having another Fox living so near. He went off by himself to think things over. He wanted to think of some way of driving that stranger out of the Green Forest. At first he thought in vain. How could he drive a stranger out without even seeing the stranger? In the second place, he couldn't think of any one big enough to drive the stranger out who would be willing to do it just because he, Reddy, asked him. So, as he lay curled up on a big rock, taking a sun bath, he kept thinking and thinking and thinking.

He had almost given up hope of thinking of a plan to drive the stranger out, when way off in the distance he heard a sound which caused him to prick up his ears. It was the distant barking of Bowser the Hound. A grin crept over Reddy's sharp, crafty face. He got to his feet and stood listening. Then he jumped down from the rock on which he had been taking his sun bath and headed straight toward Farmer Brown's dooryard. He knew that it was up there that he had heard Bowser barking.

Now, Reddy is not in the habit of entering Farmer Brown's dooryard in broad daylight. But this was a very special occasion. He first made sure from a safe distance that there was no danger.

Then he deliberately trotted across that dooryard in plain sight of Bowser the Hound.

For a moment Bowser just stood there, staring at Reddy Fox. He looked for all the world as if he doubted what his eyes saw. But it was only for a moment. Then with a roar of his great voice, he started after Reddy.

Again Reddy grinned. He whirled about and headed back to the Green Forest. He kept just far enough ahead of Bowser to leave a good fresh scent without being worried by having Bowser too close. Straight through the Green Forest to the place where he had found the tracks of the stranger ran Reddy. He was leading Bowser the Hound over in the hope that he would follow the scent of this stranger, and so drive him out of the Green Forest. It was a mean trick. Yes, sir, it was a mean trick that Reddy proposed to play.

Laces Popular.

Laces are being used on everything from lingerie to the most formal of evening frocks just now. Fewer lace dresses are being worn at evening functions but lace, tulle or chiffon frocks are posed over lace fouraux or slips. Black lace or chiffon is readily adapted to the informal dinner, the theater or to receive at home. Lace insertions are as popular for afternoon dress as for evening wear.

If All Stenographers Should Stop Work

Well, Things Would Slow Up a Bit, and Civilization Would Lose, Just as in Days of 'rau' the Apostle.

By WINIFRED BLACK

THERE is nothing new under the sun, a wise man said. It is declared by one of the modern students of the Greek papyrus that shorthand was a definitely established occupation in the days of the Apostle Paul.

WINIFRED BLACK

Prof. Henry O. Lloyd of the University of Chicago, in a recent thesis, describes a contract of 155 A. D. in which an ex-magistrate apprenticed his slave to a shorthand writer.

The learned man said that the Apostle Paul had a stenographer who took down his letters in shorthand, and wonderful letters they are, as the whole world can testify today.

So again the old is new and the new is old. We are apt to think of stenography as of very recent origin. We think of stenography as closely connected with the typewriter, but, of course, shorthand writing long preceded the typewriter. Charles Dickens was one of the most expert shorthand reporters ever known. He made his first financial success in stenography, and was one of the fastest workers ever known in the British Parliament. A modern typewriter would have been one of the wonders of the world to him. All of his notes, taken in the rush of daily service, were written out in longhand by himself.

This would seem a laborious proposition to a stenographer of today, who relies upon the clicking keys of the typewriter machine to carry out the work begun in shorthand.

Wendell Phillips used to have a

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

Poems.

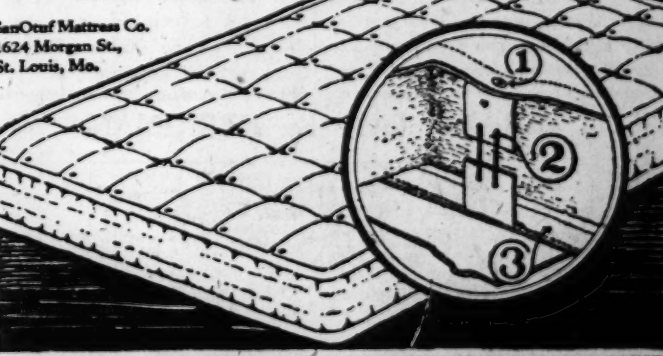

NOT all the poems flow from poets' pens in measured, sweet refrains, too finely and too rare for common men's inapt, untutored brains. Not all majestic meter lies in books, in wait for seeking eyes; there is an epic in the mount that looks, unawed, into the skies. And there are merry verses ringing out in childhood laughter's note, a roundelay in every carefree shout that wells from joyous throat. There is a poem in the daisy field, sun's gold on golden flowers, and many a lovely message is revealed at dawn and twilight's hours. There is a poem in a mother's smile and in a lover's look, a poem in a baby's artless wile, or in an ingenuit. If you would read life's poems, you must seek not within books alone, for through its myriad, changing phases speak the rarest poems known.

Sooner or later that which is now life shall be poetry, and every fair and manly trait shall add a richer strain to the song.—Emerson.
